IMPROVEMENT OF BOULEVARD DUE THIS YEAR

County Commissioners Grant Petition for Vernon Heights Roadway

RUNS TO MEMORIAL

Work To Be Rushed for Completion of Harding Tomb, Plans Reveal

Improvement of Vernon Heights-blvd from Delaware-av east to the section already completed with the construction of two 20-foot drives separated by a 25-foot parkway, was definitely scheduled today when the Marion County Board of Commissioners granted the petition of the Vernon Heights Realty Co. and other benefited property owners.

Work on this improvement, the cost of which has not been determined, will get under way as soon as possible and it is expected that it will be completed this year.

County Surveyor Cecil R. Leavens was ordered to prepare plans, estimates and specifications for the work at once and submit a report to the board at the earliest possible time.

To Rush Work

Since all of the property to be improved is not within the city's corporate limits authority for the work must come from county commissioners.

In view of the fact that the Delaware-av entrance to the boulevard runs along the north side of the Harding Memorial site and is included in the landscaping project at the memorial site it has been decided to rush the work so that all property surrounding the memorial will be improved for the completion of the monument.

Cost of the entire work on the boulevard will be paid by the Vernon Heights Realty Co. and benefited property owners, the petition granted by commissioners states.

Only One Drive Now

Under the present plan construction of the south section of the boulevard will be identical to the section starting on Mt. Vernon-av and continuing south to Virginia-av. However, only one of the 20-foot drives from Virginia-av to Leetonia-st, or the section in the vicinity of Vernon Heights Park is in-

MARION AND COLUMBUS MEN HURT AT CROSSING

E. F. Patrick Confined at Home Following Crash Near Marysville

E. F. Patrick, 248 Gurley-av, sustained a wrenched back and other injuries, and James R. Coppins of Columbus sustained more serious injuries to his back, and one of his hips and legs, when the Buick coach in which the two were coming from Columbus, was struck by a New York Central train at the T. and O. C. Crossing east of Marysville shortly after noon yesterday.

Both men failed to see the approaching train until it was within 30 feet of the crossing and then attempted to save their lives by turning the automobile in the direction the train was heading and leaping to safety. The two men, struck by the train as they leaped, were thrown to the side of the road and the car dragged a short distance and completely demolished.

Taken to Marysville

The two men were removed to Marysville, where medical attention was obtained in the offices of Drs. C. D. Mills and F. C. Callaway. Mr. Patrick being then removed to his home here, and Mr. Coppins to London.

The extent of Mr. Patrick's injuries will be determined when an X-ray picture is taken Saturday morning. Mr. Coppins, although the more seriously injured of the two, is expected to live.

Both men were traveling for the Columbus First Citizens' Corporation and were coming from the home offices in Columbus when the accident occurred.

MARION MAN INJURED IN FALL AT NEW LEXINGTON

BYRD WOULD FLY OVER OCEAN AND BACK AGAIN

Plans To Try To Outdo Both Lindbergh and Chamberlin Ships

New York, June 10 — Naval Commander Richard E. Byrd, the only aviator who ever flew a plane over the North Pole, plans to outdo even Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Clarence D. Chamberlin in the way of transatlantic flights, it was learned today.

Byrd intends to fly to Paris in his great tri-motor Fokker monoplane, then immediately fly back again. At the most his stay in the French capital will be scarcely more than 12 hours, just enough time for the American and his fellow fliers to take a restful sleep and have the America's gasoline tanks filled up again.

Hence, if Clarence Chamberlin and his flight companion, Charles A. Levine, expect to be the first to fly from transcontinental Europe to New York, they will have to "step out" speedily. Chamberlin and Levine now have under consideration an offer of $100,000 from William Randolph Hearst to fly from Berlin to New York.

Meanwhile, Commander Byrd has completed his final tests. His great Fokker plane has responded to a load of more than 14,500 pounds. So spectacular was this achievement to Byrd and his associates that they immediately decided to risk an additional 100 gallons of gasoline, weighing 600 pounds. Thus, when the America dashes into the eastern haze, he will carry a weight of 15,500 pounds — something hitherto unheard of in transatlantic aviation.

Lindbergh flew off in a plane weighing 5,130 pounds. The Chamberlin and Levine machine weighed all over 5,400 pounds.

In the America's cabin with Byrd will be Bert Acosta, one of the holders of the world's endurance record, and Lieut. George Noville, flight engineer.

Circus Folk to Pay Honor Sunday to Hardings Who Loved Outdoor Show World

Hagenbeck-Wallace People Will Visit Tomb in Marion Cemetery Hold Brief Services and Put Wreath at Foot of Caskets

Circus folk will pay tribute Sunday to the memory of two of the staunchest friends of the circus when members of the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus will visit the tomb of President and Mrs. Warren G. Harding and at brief and impressive ceremonies pay its simple honors to the two persons who, at all times, were closely associated and devoted to the circus itself and the members of the profession.

Probably no more ardent follower of the circus lived in Marion than President Harding. It was his greatest pleasure to visit the circus menagerie and stand in front of the "elephant line" and to dole out peanut after peanut to the lumbering pachyderms; to marvel at the beauty of the jungle animals, and to pat the spirited circus horses on the nose; then to visit the big top and sit down, not as a public official, but a mere citizen, and enjoy the circus like a child. He was a lover of animals and it was in the circus that he found those animals and the atmosphere which he loved.

Act for Circus Folk

Each season when circuses visited Marion, Washington or other cities in which he or Mrs. Harding were, they attended and would linger for hours, visiting the menagerie and talking with circus people and in the hearts of circus folk throughout the United States the memory of President and Mrs. Harding is revered.

When the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus people honor their memories Sunday they will be acting for circus folk of the country. No pomp or ceremony will be attempted; instead, just a plain and simple service.

Ceremony at 2 P. M.

There will be a brief sacred concert in which the favorite hymns of President and Mrs. Harding will be heard.

Following this a short sermon will be delivered, followed by the placing of a wreath of roses and chrysanthemums at the foot of the caskets by D. C. Odom, manager of the circus.

The services will close with a hymn. The ceremony, which will begin at 2 p. m. will be completed by 2:30 o'clock.

ST. MARY'S SENIORS ARE SCHOOL BANQUET GUESTS

Juniors Hosts at Annual Affair; Rev. J. T. Hannahan Speaks

The senior class colors, lemon and powder blue, combined with tea roses arranged a colorful decorative note for the Junior-Senior banquet and dance given by pupils of St. Mary's Parochial School, last night in the ballroom at Hotel Harding. Chaperones were Mrs. J. F. Mullee and Mrs. Henry Neidig. Rev. John T. Hannahan, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Church, was a guest.

Robert O'Connor presided as toastmaster and talks were given by Eugene Brown, president of the senior class, Clifford Hogan, president of the junior class, and Reverend Hannahan, who spoke on "Catholic Education."

Miss Katherine Pfeiffer gave the class poem and Ralph Cramer the class history. The class will was given by Edward McAndrews and Miss Katherine Barnhart gave the class prophecy.

Graduates from St. Mary this year are Misses Ida Mae Abe, Angela Andrew, Katherine Barnhart, Elizabeth Fitzpatrick, Isabel Harbur, Juanita Miller, Alice Louise Mannetta, Carmeltis O'Donnell, Miss Mae Robbins, Elizabeth Schuler, Clara Uhl, Violet Shaw, Helen O'Dell, Virginia [illegible], Katherine Pfeiffer, [illegible], Ralph Burke, [illegible], Cramer, [illegible], Merkle, [illegible], O'Brien.

PLAIN HORSE-SENSE IN ENFORCEMENT, POLICY

Lowman, Succeeding Andrews, To Have No Fireworks in His System

Washington, June 10—"No fire works—no sky rockets—just plain horse-sense enforcement."

That will be the policy of Seymour Lowman, former lieutenant governor of New York, who Aug. 1 will become assistant secretary of the treasury and generalissimo of the government's prohibition army and navy.

"The job of the treasury is to carry out the law. I am for law enforcement."

"Congress has enacted the law and laid down the policy," Lowman said. "Congress has enacted the law and laid down the policy," Lowman said.

Lowman said that so far as he knew he would have no recommendations to make to congress relative to new legislation. A considerable number of bills, proposed by Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, the present dry chief, to strengthen prohibition enforcement, died in the 69th congress. It appears doubtful whether the treasury will seek reconsideration of these amendments to the prohibition and tariff laws.

NATIONAL CAPITAL IN GALA HOLIDAY ATTIRE

Youth's Program in Washington Jammed with Engagements; Los Angeles To Drop New Colonel's Uniform onto Memphis; Escort Moves Out to Sea To Greet Aviator

IN a proclamation issued at noon today, Mayor Hazen asked that all citizens of Marion show honor and respect to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who is scheduled to arrive at Washington at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, by displaying the national colors, by the ringing of church bells and the blowing of whistles.

The proclamation follows:

"I, Earl M. Hazen, mayor of the City of Marion, do hereby ask that all citizens show honor and respect to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who will arrive in Washington at 11 o'clock Saturday, by displaying the national colors and by the ringing of bells and the blowing of whistles. As one who was not only the first to go from New York to Paris in an airplane, but who carried a message of goodwill far more effective than any yet presented to our neighbors across the seas, Col. Lindbergh, I feel, deserves this recognization of his valor on the part of the citizens of Marion.

"Earl M. Hazen, Mayor."

WASHINGTON, June 10—The drone of motors of a great air armada, music to every aviator, will herald the nation's joyous home-coming for Charles A. Lindbergh today.

While the sleek cruiser Memphis was speeding in a smooth sea with the youthful hero of the New York-to-Paris flight, the welcoming vanguard composed of the giant dirigible Los Angeles, a dozen airplanes and six destroyers planned to set out to meet her off the Virginia Capes.

Vice Admiral Buerage wireloned the navy department that Lindbergh scanning the horizon from the bridge of the Memphis, would sight land early in the afternoon.

To Drop Uniform

Before sundown he will be well within the waters of Chesapeake Bay with hundreds of small water craft joining in the welcome that will precede official reception by President Coolidge in behalf of the nation on Saturday.

From the Los Angeles the spick and span uniform of the new colonel in the Missouri National Guard will be dropped aboard the Memphis from Los Angeles, while the first actual contact will be established when Richard H. Blythe, a St. Louis friend, leaves a destroyer to join "Lindy" aboard the cruiser.

Well within her schedule, the Memphis will steam up the historic Potomac at a leisurely pace tonight and deliver Colonel Lindbergh at the presidential dock in Washington navy yard at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. While he is whisked off for a parade and the presentation of the distinguished flying cross by President Coolidge, a dozen skilled mechanics will begin to recon-

MOTHER OF LINDY HIDES IN HOTEL

Baltimore, June 10—Seeking to escape the limelight until her son arrives, Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, mother of the "lone eagle," was in seclusion this morning at the Hotel Belvedere here.

Mrs. Lindbergh left a Washington-bound train, just outside Baltimore, and motored to the hotel, thus eluding scores of newspaper men, who awaited her at the Baltimore station. The train made an unscheduled stop at a cross-street to allow her to alight. She was met by a number of Baltimore friends.

Mrs. Lindbergh plans to go to Washington late this afternoon, where she will be the guest of President and Mrs. Coolidge along with her son, at the temporary White House during her stay in the capital.

Harding High School Principal Traces Careers of 1,310 in Graduating Classes During Last 10 Years

APPROXIMATELY 15 per cent of the students graduating from Harding High School each year go to college. Twelve per cent of each class eventually enters professional life and 53 percent—of the fairer sex—look to matrimony for a career. These and other equally interesting facts are revealed in statistics recently compiled by K. H. Marshall, principal of the high school.

The information was obtained largely that school authorities might determine the value of a high school education. Separate lists of the names of the 1,310 students graduating from Harding High School during the last 10 years, and of the 507 students who withdrew from the school during that time, were turned over to school students for a 15 minute period that they might insert the present locations and occupations of any of the alumni of whom they had recently heard. The lists were then checked by Mr. Marshall and estimate made of the goals achieved thus far by those students.

Course Essential

The result proved a high school education—complete to graduation—most essential, since many of the graduates are now holding responsible positions, often with the title, manager, affixed, and an equally large number of the non-graduates are listed as truck drivers, waiters and the like, and several are in reform schools.

Of the 1,310 students graduating in 10 years, 197 went to college, and 147 now hold professional positions. Matrimony claimed the largest number of girls. Of the graduates 236 are now married, and of those withdrawn, 85 are married. Of the students who withdrew 28 are known to have continued school elsewhere.

Of those who graduated only 11 are dead while of the 507 who withdrew, 12 were listed as deceased. A large percentage of the non-graduates left Marion while in school.

Prominent on List

Prominently on the list are such names as that of John Osmun, a graduate of the class of 1917, now U. S. district attorney at Cleveland. After graduating from Harding High he took a preparatory course at Ohio State University, Columbus, completed a law course at Ohio Northern University, Ada, and attended the John Marshall Law School, Cleveland. His wife, formerly Gladys Bauer, was a graduate of the same class.

Still another student, who, having no parents, earned his way through high school and college and is now a professor in the University of Cincinnati. Many of those graduates are now prominent in politics, several locally, and one, Walberg Brown, is famous for his music, being at present a violinist with the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra.

It is interesting to note that, of the 1,310 who graduated, 93 are now teaching, and, as nearly as can be learned, 43 of that number are city teachers and 11 county teachers. Few of the non-graduates were listed in that capacity.

All parts of the world have claimed those graduates of Harding High School, a number of different states, and South America, Hawaii, Germany, Italy and Japan as well.

27 Return to Farms

Only 27 of the graduates have answered the call of the "back to the farm" movement and of the non-graduates, only 10 are listed as farmers. Clerical positions and office jobs claimed the largest number of graduates, and non-graduates as well, although all fields of industry and art are represented every description of position being held by Harding High School students, from missionaries to bell boys.

Others of the alumni have become ministers, nurses, Y. M. C. A. workers, salesmen, journalists, printers, interior decorators, real estate and insurance agents, musicians and soldiers and sailors, the report showed.

COL. M. S. CRISSY GIVES ADDRESS TO KIWANIANS

Object of Military Training Camps Discussed by Division Chief

Preparedness for civil as well as military life, as the object of the Citizens' Military Training camp, was portrayed by Col. M. S. Crissy, assistant chief of staff of the Eighty-Third Division, in a talk before members of the Kiwanis Club at their luncheon at Hotel Harding yesterday.

The object of the military camp, the speaker pointed out, is not alone to prepare men for military service, but to prepare them by the building of physical and moral strength, for the civil battles of everyday life. Three physical examinations are given each applicant for the camp, one upon the filing of his application, one upon his arrival at camp and one upon his leaving the camp. A thorough knowledge of the physical condition of each boy is in this way known to camp officials.

World War Figures

At the time of the World War, it was pointed out by the speaker, 51 per cent of all who enlisted were below normal and 26 per cent were rejected because of their physical condition. The camp, he said, was organized to prevent a recurrence of such a condition.

Marion County has completed its quota, Colonel Crissy said, but as many more could be accepted if their applications were received in a short time.

As an inducement to young men who are musically inclined, Culver Military college at Culver, Ind., the speaker said, has made an offer of a $5,000 scholarship to the best clarinet or French horn player in the camps this summer. He also said that a group of marksmen trained at the camps will be taken to Camp Perry this summer to participate in the trial shooting there.

Four Divisions

The camps, the speaker said, were divided into four divisions, the basic, into which all new arrivals go, and the red and the white and the blue. The red represents the second year in camp, the white the third year and the blue the fourth year. Ex-service men are eligible to join the blue because of their past military record.

In speaking on life at the camps, the speaker said, soldiers were not permitted to leave the camp at night unless in a group and under the supervision of an escort and then only on sight-seeing trips. Law observance rather than law enforcement is one of the principles at the camp, it was pointed out by the speaker.

Romans As Road Builders Now Find Rival In Akron's Rubber Pioneer

AKRON, the rubber capital of the world, is today rivaling Rome for thoroughness. Running like a dart across the barren Campagna and flanked with the ruined tombs of ancient Rome's illustrious dead is the Appian Way—built more than twenty-two centuries ago. Constructed to withstand the tramp of Caesar's countless legions and the grind of chariot wheels this great military highway has lived to feel the strain of tanks, caissons, and marching Fascisti of the modern Italy.

Through Gaul and Britain the modern traveller rides upon roads many of whose bases were laid under the direction of Roman conquerors. The majesty of the Empire has passed but their highways remain to prove the glory that was theirs.

The Romans did not learn to build roads in a day. Neither have the rubber companies perfected their improvements over night. For thirty years Frank A. Seiberling has been building tires. He developed the first tire building machine and the cord tire. Today, under his direction, a new process of vulcanization has been perfected, whereby the water-bag cure is substituted for the dry heat of steam. Tires are cured more uniformly, the natural oils of rubber and cotton are preserved and the new product is ready for service upon the modern highway, which stretch like ribbons across the land.

Sailorlog Tires are sold and recommended by Hughes Vulcanizing Co., 248 N. Main St.

For, according to information gleaned from the office of the Superintendent Jesse H. Mason of the city schools, only about six of that 568 have obtained licenses permitting them to work—a license being essential to students under 18 years of age.

Certificates granting special permission to work to students under 18 years of age, as specified in the state labor laws, can not be obtained until the student has obtained work and until after his school term is completed. For this reason, it being early in the summer, many students may yet make their requests for certificates.

Summer School

Not a great many of 568 students enrolled as juniors and seniors at Harding High School are continuing their studies in summer school, for according to K. H. Marshall, principal of the high school the total enrollment of the summer school being conducted at the high school at the present time is 37. his number does not include the 16 freshmen enrolled in the vocational department in Harding High for a period this summer in order that when they enter school as sophomores next fall they will be granted an extra study period.

If those same students—ordinarily 18 years of age when they graduate, be under 18 they are barred from public dance halls.

Few Read

Few of the students spend their summer in the company of books or in self improvement, an interview with city librarians and a perusal of library statistics would show, since during the school months far more books circulate than in summer.

Interviews with divers of the students show that, although nearly all are planning short journeys and visits, they are largely to be brief, the majority of the students, when questioned regarding vacation plans, having given such answers as "two weeks at the lake," "just a quiet summer at home," "several weeks at grandmother's," "two weeks at camp," or "an automobile trip with mother and father the last week in July or first in August," as the case may be.

Change in Attitude

The days when the high school boy of 17 or 18 spent his summer in fishing, swimming and the pastimes of "the younger kids," as well as the time when the girls, in prim ginghams and flimsy, be-sashed frocks, were contented to spend the summer in family picnics and music lessons—are at an end. For the high school student of today enters the ranks of an adult at a much earlier age and craves the constant amusement, the work, the pastimes of an adult.

What, then, becomes of the youth of high school age during the three months when school doors are closed to them? The majority, it would seem, with the few exceptions when short vacations in automobiles or at camps have been planned, are comfortably seated in the lap of leisure, awaiting the opening of another school year.

"The best thing for a BAD LUNG is a good head"

Quoted from Bulletin of the Ohio State Dept. of Health

TUBERCULOSIS is something to be conquered — not yielded to. If your lung is affected, keep your head. You can get well right here in Ohio, close to friends and relatives, without the need for lonely and expensive trips to other climates. There is at your service, down in the pure air and bright sunshine of the south-eastern hills, a wonderful sanatorium devoted entirely to the treatment of lung diseases; the oldest private institution of its kind in the state.

Find out about it today. Write for free descriptive literature.

A conference was scheduled for today between Chief McFarland and a number of business men and others, to determine if an effort will be made to raise the money necessary, which is estimated by the chief at $800.

Convention Success

The Mansfield convention which closed yesterday afternoon, is regarded as one o f the best, both in point of attendance and in the quality of the programs, of any held by the association since its organization. Unless sufficient money can be assured to put on one of equal quality if not better, in this city it is doubtful if the convention will be brought here.

Other officers chosen at the election yesterday were Robert Leedom, Portsmouth, first vice president; Edward J. Hunsinger, Massillon, second vice president and Phillip J. Hartz, of Youngstown, secretary and treasurer. William H. Remy, retiring president and chief of the Mansfield department, was presented with a three piece silver set by the association the presentation being made by Assistant Fire Chief James Granger, of Cleveland.

Chief McFarland who returned to Marion late yesterday afternoon, was generous in his praise of the Mansfield convention, both, of the citizens who made every effort to make the visit of the chiefs, a pleasure and of the unusual quality of the program. The plan of having the exhibit and convention in the same building, as was carred out at Mansfield, was given special recommendation by the chief.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

Estelle Bradley.

Three years ago Hollywood and motion pictures were mere words to Estelle Bradley, then a high school student, but today she is leading woman for Lloyd Hamilton, comedian. She attracted attention when elected "Miss Atlanta" and later won a beauty prize in the southern division. A contract to appear in movies soon followed.

BOLD and daring, commanding and overpowering, no matter what the heroes may seem when they take it into their heads to win their ladies fair, on the screen, they are timid and frightened when it comes to propose to the one lady whom they decide should play the leading part within the circle of their own private life.

And the places they choose!

You would think that, accustomed as they are to all the proper settings and background when making love on the screen, they would choose equally romantic spots and moments when their own affairs have to be attended to. Nothing of the kind.

At a railroad station, on the dance floor, back stage, across a card table, in a London fog—these are but some of the locations where fair screen ladies are being proposed to. And the timidity and embarrassment! You would think the heroes hadn't as much as held a girl's hand—ever.

For instance, Gertrude Olmsted and Robert Z. Leonard met at the home of a mutual friend, both worked at the same studio. Leonard directed Miss Olmsted in one picture, but it was not until the actress was going east to play a role that the director mustered up enough courage to pop the question.

Leonard saw Gertrude off at the depot and just before the train pulled out he forced out the question—to which Miss Olmsted answered "Yes."

Antonio Moreno did the courageous thing when he and the woman who became his wife were playing mah jongg. He veiled his question in such a way that the other couple did not know.

Music and Claire inspired Bert Lytell and enabled him to overcome his hesitation when he proposed to Claire Windsor on the dance floor.

George K. Arthur hoped to hide his blushes by proposing to his wife in a London fog.

Eddie Baker, the villain of many laugh pictures, takes the role of an officious prison guard in "Jail Birdies."

Francis X. Bushman will play the leading role in the production of "Honor the Woman," Anna Q. Nilsson has been selected for the leading part opposite him.

Cantor Rosenblat will appear as a singer in the screen drama based on the play "The Jazz Singer."

Alice White will be in the supporting cast with Constance Talmadge's next picture, "Breakfast."

Norman Kerry will have the male lead in "Love" opposite Greta Garbo, displacing Ricardo Cortez, who has been assigned to "Terror," Lon Chaney's next picture.

Paramount will star Emil Jannings in "The King of Cannibals." With the exception of Jannings, the cast will be composed entirely of negroes.

...cluded in the improvement program. This work will be done later.

Tentative plans call for the construction of a five-inch waterbound macadam base with a top course of four-inch macadam, similar to specifications for building the north end of the thoroughfare.

When the work is completed there will be one continuous 20-foot stretch of hard-surfaced street joining Delaware-av and Mt. Vernon-av through Vernon Heights additions and another similar stretch running parallel and only broken between Virginia-av and Leetonia-st.

Important Improvement

This is considered one of the most important improvements to be undertaken here this year in view of the fact that it vitally affects work on the $500,000 Harding Memorial and will provide a route for traffic from points east to the Marion-Columbus-rd without passing through the congested downtown district.

A large number of tourists is expected to pass over the new route when completed. Cars coming into Marion over the Harding Highway from the east can be routed over Grand-av to the entrance of Vernon Heights-blvd and thence to the Harding Memorial.

It will also be possible for persons visiting the Harding home to go to the Harding Memorial without driving through the business section.

According to plans for landscaping and beautifying the grounds surrounding the memorial suite the lane through McKinley Park terminating directly opposite the south entrance to Vernon Heights-blvd on Delaware-av will be improved to correspond to the boulevard. The plot opposite the memorial, which was purchased several years ago as an addition to McKinley Park will be beautified and landscaped in keeping with the general memorial scheme.

For this park improvement the $25,000 bequeathed to one of Marion's three parks by the late President Harding will be used.

BIRTHS

Announcement was made today of the birth of a son, June 6, to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weston, Cherry-st.

REJECT PROPOSAL

French Match Monopoly Will Not Be Sold to Swedish Firm

Paris, June 10—The chamber of deputies today rejected Premier Poincare's proposal that the French match monopoly be sold to a Swedish firm for $80,000,000 by a vote of 281 to 243.

The measure was not one of confidence, but it is considered as a political check to the premier, and is the stiffest rebuff he has received since he took office.

The premier had asked that the monopoly be granted so that France might have the $80,000,000 available for use in negotiating a settlement of the debt to the United States.

FILING DEADLINE NEARS; INTEREST STILL LAGS

Hoberman, Mayoralty Race Prospect, Not Listed at 2 O'Clock

Unless last-minute candidates and plenty of them file declarations within the next few hours the August primary here will be almost entirely devoid of interest, it was indicated today at the board of elections office.

Although the filing period is scheduled to close at midnight tonight W. H. Hoberman, Democrat, announced to head his party ticket in opposition to Mayor Hazen, had not filed his declaration at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Leaders of both parties today expressed the belief that in the event Hoberman filed he would have no opposition in the primaries.

The Sixth Ward, one of the new divisions created recently in the redistricting, still is without a candidate for councilman.

The Fourth Ward today appeared to be the center of what interest there is in the coming primary when John Battenfeld filed his declaration of candidacy on the Democratic ticket. He will oppose Charles L. Miller.

There also is opposition on the Republican side in this ward with Edward G. Roberts and Grant Haldeman both seeking the nomination.

William A. Shuster was added to the list of Republicans seeking election as councilman-at-large today.

The third declaration filed today was by Irven Prettyman, Democrat, who is seeking the nomination for councilman of the First Ward.

...appreciate the many invitations sent to me, but it is impossible to answer them all now. I have received hundreds of them while on the Memphis. But it would take a staff as great as that in Paris, where the people worked over the messages, sorted them out and answered them to handle affairs here. Please say for me I intend to answer every message received when I reach New York."

At 5 o'clock this morning (daylight saving time) the Memphis was about 265 miles from Cape Henry.

Before daybreak sailors on watch began keeping a lookout for the destroyers that were ordered out to meet and escort the Memphis, including one that was to take moving picture films and other photographs off the cruiser.

Take Off Films

The destroyer Humphries later met the Memphis and took off the moving picture film that had been taken on board the cruiser. The destroyer was first sighted at 5:40 o'clock and drew alongside shortly afterward.

On Thursday, despite a stiff breeze, Lindbergh climbed the outrigger of the forward mast and took some pictures.

Lindbergh plans to fly in "The Spirit of St. Louis" from Washington to New York as he intends to use it for his flight to St. Louis.

Misses Pretty Sight

Lindbergh, who had stayed up until midnight writing, missed a pretty sight when the Humphries came alongside the Memphis this morning.

The crew had been eagerly watching for the destroyer during the morning hours and Captain Laskey had been on the bridge. The first sign of the destroyer was a small beam of light that came through the gray horizon, bobbing and flashing.

Flashing signals identified the Humphries but the sun arose, like a molten ball out of the mist and the speeding boat was soon recognizable as she cut throug hthe waves at a tremendous speed towards the Memphis.

Mahoney in Pajamas

The men aboard the Humphries were keen on displaying their seamanship to Lindbergh and the destroyer cut across the bow of the Memphis and circled it with a flourish, coming to within 200 yards of the cruiser. Within a few minutes the Humphries had a boat over the side and it came alongside and took off the bags containing the films. The propellors of the Memphis began to turn again and the cruiser headed toward the capes while the Humphries turned northward.

All this time Lindbergh slept, although B. F. Mahoney came to the deck maneuver in his pajamas to see the Humphries

At Cape Henry Today

The Memphis is expected to arrive off Cape Henry at 4:45 o'clock this afternoon, eastern daylight time.

"After arriving off the capes we will proceed immediately up the Chesapeake Bay and the Potomac River," said Captain Laskey. "We should drop anhcor off Piney Point at 11 o'clock tonight. We'll weigh anchor again at 4 tomorrow morning and arrive in Washington on schedule."

The destroyer escort is expected to be picked up by the Memphis at about 2 o'clock this afternoon.

...semble the sturdy plane which carried him across the ocean and which, on Monday, will carry him to New York for a new demonstration of the nation's enthusiasm.

Holiday in Capital

Meanwhile a holiday atmosphere enveloped the national capital. American flags, and occasionally the tri-color of France, Lindbergh pictures, Lindbergh canes and Lindbergh hats all testified to the gala spirit that presages a welcome never exceeded here.

Nor was Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, mother of the intrepid young airman, forgotten. Her picture was conspicuously displayed in hundreds of store windows.

Reception committees were enmeshed in a maze of details and harried by thousands demanding the dues of official position and seeking preferred seats for the ceremonies which will be conducted within the shadow of Washington Monument tmorrow afternoon.

Police officials said 100,000 people would pack the gentle slopes on the monument grounds, and the constant influx of visitors prompted Brig. Gen. S. D. Rockenbach to order every available soldier to duty in the handling of the crowds. Window space was reported to be selling at a premium along Pennsylvania-av, through which 3,000 soldiers, marines and bluejackets will escort the young pilot.

Program Filled

"Lindy's" program for Saturday, now virtually complete, includes the parade, presidential reception, dinner at the temporary White House, and Minnesota State Society and National Press Club receptions.

The flier on Sunday will visit the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington, chat wtih disabled veterans at Walter Reed Hospital, probably attend church with President and Mrs. Coolidge, receive the cross of honor of the American Flag Association and attend a reception of the Missouri State Society.

He will leave Washington early Monday morning for New York, after breakfasting with the National Aeronautical Association.

The arrival of 21 pursuit planes from Selfridge Field, Mich., led by Major Thomas G. Lamphier, completed the armada of 85 army, navy, marine corps and mail airplanes which will circle about the Memphis on her way up the Potomac River Saturday.

Distinguished aviators who will personally welcome "Lindy" include Commander Byrd, polar flier; Lieut. Russell L. Maughan, hero of the dawn-to-dusk flight; Lieut. James H. Doolittle, only man to make an "outside loop"; Commander Albert C. Read, who crossed the Atlantic in the famous NC-4 flight of the navy, and Lieut. Oakey G. Kelly and Lieut. James A. Macready, famous cross country fliers. Robert Nungesser, brother of Capt. Nungesser, pilot of the ill-fated "White Bird," will be a member of the reception committee.

Italian Flier Leaves Horta To Continue Flight Back to Italy

Horta, Azores, June 10—Commander Francesco De Pinedo, Italian intercontinental flier, left Horta at 6:20 o'clock today on the continuation of his flight back home to Italy.

De Pinedo planned to return to the spot in the Atlantic ocean several hundred miles off the Azores where he was forced down and hop off from there for Ponta Delgada to take on fuel; then continue on his way to Lisbon. Weather conditions here were perfect.

ANOTHER CASE

Smallpox Attributed Directly To Nazarene Church Meet at Troy

Coshocton, June 10—A third case of smallpox was reported here today, and attributed directly to Troy, O., where several hundred were exposed during a convention of the Church of the Nazarene.

Of 45 Coshocton County residents who attended services here with persons returning from Troy, 44 have been vaccinated. One woman has refused vaccination and is under quarantine.

The smallpox patients here are Rev. A. H. Perry and wife, of the Church of the Nazarene, and Wilbur Wright, 10, son of Ray Wright church singer, who also attended the Troy meeting.

LENIENCY IS EXPECTED IN MAZER'S SENTENCE

State's Informer in Mellett Case Scheduled for Court Appearance

Canton, June 10—Louis Maser, who saved himself from the shadow of the electric chair by turning informer against his former pal, Ex-detective Floyd E. Streitenberger, was to appear today before Common Pleas Judge A. W. Agler for sentence on an indictment charging him with first degree murder, in connection with the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher.

Maser may plead guilty to either second degree murder or manslaughter, made possible in the indictment returned against him last August, and is expected to receive a short term in Ohio Penitentiary, according to all indications.

DENVER MAN GIVES UP AFTER SLAYING SOLON

Telephone Office Manager Tells of Alleged Illicit Love Affair

Denver, June 10—Accidental shooting in self defense!

This will be the plea of Joseph Minter ,telephone office manager, under arrest today in connection with the slaying of State Senator Albert E. Bogden, 36, in a sensational shooting in the asserted "love nest" apartment of Minter's wife.

Bedraggled and mud-spattered after walking all night around the city, Minter surrendered to police today with the announcement that "I guess you want me here."

Exhausted from his wanderings, Minter declared his grief over the tragic climax of an alleged illicit love affair of his wife and told a straightforward story police said.

He said he did not know the identity of the victim of the slaying until he read the newspapers this morning.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Minter, pacing a jail cell, refused to see anyone. She declared when taken into custody that that Senator Bogden, prominent attorney, had called upon her at the apartment to discuss the progress of her divorce suit against Minter, from whom she had been separated for some time.

Police, however, said that the papers in the divorce case were not handled by Bogdon.

Application of Madame Campbell Refused by Rota Tribunal

Rome, June 10—The Rota Tribunal has rejected the application of Mme. Huguette De Forna Campbell for nullification of her marriage to Charles Campbell, former secretary of the United States Legation in Berne, according to information in the Rota records made available today.

According to the application of Maadme Campbell, she based her plea for nullification on the charge that her husband had failed to live up to the spirit of a pre-nuptial agreement to become of the Catholic faith. She charged that while Campbell went through the ceremonies of being christened a Catholic, he was not sincere in his conversion.

FAIR, COOLER WEATHER TO WELCOME LINDBERGH

London, June 10—"The flag of the Kuomintang (Cantonese party) will never fly over Peking," Marshal Chang Tso Lin, commander-in-chief of the Northern Chinese army, was quoted as saying in an interview cabled from Peking to the Daily Express today.

The correspondent quoted Marshal Chang further:

"I am established here where you find me and here I purpose to remain. There is no possibility of a coup d'etat. Nothing can happen in Peking which I do not expect. I am very much awake."

RICHMOND IS ROCKED BY PRONOUNCED SHOCK

Other Portions of Virginia Feel Quake; No Damage Done, However

Richmond, Va., June 10—A pronounced shock, believed to have been an earthquake, shook Richmond at 2:17 o'clock this morning.

Houses were rocked, window panes rattled, and many residents were routed from their beds. Apparently, however, no damage was done.

The shock was at first believed to have been caused by an explosion of some kind, but later other portions of Virginia reported feeling it.

Daily Proverb—"Innocent actions carry their warrant with them."

The Wisconsin girl who killed a bear with a rolling-pin manifestly is an exceptional young woman, exceptional no more for killing the bear than for knowing where to locate the rolling-pin.

You never can tell. It's just possible that the stage might profit by appealing to the best in us rather than the worst. If for no other reason, the novelty of the change should appeal.

London tells us that Great Britain is going to establish a museum to portray her naval history, but doesn't explain how the "low visibility" at the battle of Jutland is going to be shown.

"When there were sleighs," says the St. Louis Globe Democrat, "it was almost unknown to be run over by one. Could jingle bells be put on automobiles?" Try as hard as we can, we are unable to recall many sleighs driven through city streets at anywhere from thirty to fifty miles an hour.

A Riga cable tells of the execution without trial of "a batch" of Leningrad workmen alleged to have sent threatening letters to a soviet official. More "liberty and equality."

An eighteen-year-old New York girl, following in the footsteps of her grandmother and mother before her, has eloped and married. We take it to be a case of inherited prejudice against home weddings.

Lindbergh has declined to accept the income from a $2,000,000 trust fund proffered him. We guess that there can no longer be doubt of the fact that he is an "exceptional young man," as has been said of him.

Holding that "the most terrible thing that could happen to our Holier Than Thous would be complete national 'reform,'" the Cincinnati Enquirer claims they would starve to death. We're not so sure of that. The saloon is gone for all time, but the Anti-Saloon league seems to be doing business at the same old stand.

The investigation of theater ticket prices in progress in New York City has developed that the theatrical managers force the ticket scalpers as well as the public to "come across." It should be some satisfaction to a long-suffering public to know that it is not the only sufferer from the hold-up game.

The phase of the King Ben Purnell case which is the most amazing is not that there has been and is a cult of the kind charged, not that it could attract dupes, not that acts of the grossest immorality have been committed, but rather that all combined could so long escape the attention of authorities honestly attempting the enforcement of the law and the bringing of offenders to justice.

The soviet minister to Poland assassinated Tuesday and the soviet chief of police assassinated at Minsk, the night of the following day! After all, what else can those who rule by and through violence expect save to die by violence?

President Coolidge was referring to the American people as a whole when he said: "Our own greatness will be measured by the justice and forbearance which we manifest toward others," but doesn't it apply equally well to us as individuals? Can any man be great in the truest sense of the word unless his course is that of justice and forbearance toward others? Coming right down to brass tacks, has not Mr. Coolidge given us the acid test by which to differentiate between the great and the snob?

Marion Young Man Honored.

We have not the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with Robert E. Sifritt, of this city, but that does not estop us from esteeming him highly.

Any young man who is one of four selections from the senior class of an institution of the size and standing of Ohio Wesleyan university for special recognition for outstanding scholarship is bound to attract our attention favorably, and, all other things even, win our admiration and respect.

We are told that the Marion honor student has been awarded a scholarship by the political science department of the O. W. U. for outstanding work during the college course, the scholarship carrying a liberal cash award. In recognition of his excellent work young Mr. Sifritt has been appointed graduate assistant in the department of political science in the University of Missouri, where he will take up his duties in September.

Recognition of worth is always pleasing to us and we get pleasure in passing along word of such recognition. Young men who have attained in school work as has this young man, not only do honor to themselves and the high schools from which they graduate—in this particular case, Harding High school, the class of 1923—but to the community generally, and we get a lot of real, honest satisfaction whenever we are in position to make comment on such attainment.

Voters Make Their Tax Burdens.

Nothing truer was ever uttered than the recent statement of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills when he said: "The real tax problem of the country is no longer in Washington, but in the state capitals, county seats and city halls throughout the country."

The federal government has been cutting taxes steadily, year after year. Mr. Mellon's administration of the treasury department has been marked in this regard, but as he has cut and pruned, the state, county and municipal divisions of the country have gone to further tax excesses. There have been exceptions, it is true, but excessive spending has been the general rule.

The officials of the various political divisions can not be wholly blamed. They usually spend all the funds upon which they can get their hands, and generally seek still more. Still, we are bound to remember that they couldn't enter into needless expenditures were not the money given them to spend.

The fault lies largely with the voters. The voter is too indifferent regarding the incurring of debts. He doesn't sit up and take notice till the time for payment arrives. Then he voices the outrage which the tax-eaters are working upon the people. And within six months, six weeks it may be, possibly six days, he goes to the polls and votes for another bond issue with far less study of the worth of the proposition for which funds are being sought than he would give were he buying for himself a new lawnmower or a refrigerator. He votes for anything or everything suggested, without giving it that business-like consideration which ever should precede any large expenditure of public funds. Money well expended, gives a return. Money not well expended is as good as burned.

The voters have the power to keep taxes within reasonable lines. Worthy proposals should receive their support, but they pay a poor compliment to their intelligence when they support unworthy ones. That they do not exercise the judgment they should is manifested by the debt-incurring, tax-increasing, money-spending program in progress throughout the country.

Galion Fire Loss.

A fire which throws 150 men out of work, even though such unemployment be but temporary, and causes a direct financial loss of $300,000 would prove something of a blow to a municipality many times larger than our neighboring city of Galion.

Happily, if that term may be properly used in connection with such a misfortune, the management of the two industries burned out has the up-and-doing spirit. Before the ashes of its plant had cooled it not only had arranged for temporary quarters in the old Erie shops, but also was making plans for rebuilding.

It speaks well for the lines upon which industry is conducted in this day and age that four competitors of the Detweiler Manufacturing company placed their machinery and shop rooms at its disposal. That's the kind of a spirit which makes one pay tribute to the manner in which industry and business is being conducted today. That the fire sufferers do not find it necessary to take advantage of these friendly proffers, in no way lessens, we are satisfied, their appreciation of them.

All Galion's sister cities will naturally hope for a speedy reopening of the destroyed plant and the return of those thrown out of work to steady, profitable employment.

Under the circumstances, the chances are that "Beyond the Alps Lies Italy" will soon lose popularity as the subject of graduating essays.

The whole country is looking forward to the return of Lindbergh, and it was only a year ago that we were all worked up over the fact that people had acquired the habit of swimming the English channel. As the late President Gardner of the one-time famous Lime Kiln club so long held, "the world do move."

We have sometimes thought that it would boost the batting average of the joy of living a whole lot were we no more critical of the conduct of others than we are of our own, but we do not hope to see the idea utilized for some time yet. The millennium is probably yet some time away.

Told the day before that there would be an extra session of congress in October to consider the matter of flood prevention, we were informed yesterday that President Coolidge was yet pondering over the advisability of a special session. There's this to be said for the latter story, Mr. Coolidge isn't a bit like a man who doesn't know how to ponder.

Earl Carroll, of "bathtub" party fame is at last behind the bars at Atlanta on the order of Attorney General Sargent, who told newspaper reporters there wasn't anything the matter with the New Yorker. After giving the matter a little thought the attorney general may be willing to admit that possibly Carroll has been suffering from a disinclination to go to prison.

"It is not the right to strike," says Stanley Baldwin, "but the right to work which has made Britain able to support its present vast population." Thousands may have uttered the same thought, which is applicable to any land, but when before has it been put so aptly? No matter how old a truth, so apt a manner of putting it gives it special appeal.

Speaking about news values, the Chicago Tribune ran on its first page yesterday a story to the effect that Rebecca, the White House pet raccoon had wondered away necessitating a search of two hours before it was located in a tree in the yard adjoining the temporary White House. And the Tribune not only frankly admits, but actually boasts, that it is the world's greatest newspaper!

Dean Inge may take gloomy views of life, but he offers a lot of splendid truths at that. Here's one of them: "We have been in bondage to catchwords. We need courageous men to knock the sawdust out of these grinning images." Isn't it a fact? Stop and consider for a moment. Have we been followers of clear, wholesome statements or pretty much of the time the dupes of slogans?

THE SLAUGHTER OF THE INNOCENTS.

'Phone Mouth-Piece and Health.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

There are several questions I am asked very frequently. One of them relates to the possibility of disease being carried by paper money. The other is similar in its nature, referring to the possible dangers of the telephone mouthpiece.

While I was commissioner of health of New York City, particularly during the terrible influenza epidemic, these questions were put to me by many persons. To determine the matter, the department of laboratories made many tests.

It is gratifying to know that all the workers agreed. They decided it is most uncommon to find any dangerous germs attached to telephones or money.

One of the hardest things for us old-fashioned folks to believe, is the fact that disease is rarely carried by things. It is carried by persons. The moist secretions, especially from the nose and throat, are the offending substances. They can be passed from the hands of the ailing person to the hands of the well person and from those to the lips or nose. Then the work of infection has begun.

It is readily conceivable that the moist drops of discharge might be sprayed upon the mouth-piece of a telephone. If it were immediately used by a second person, before the moisture could dry, and the lips and tongue were brought in contact with this secretion, there might be an infection.

On practice, however, the factidious person, certainly, does not touch the mouth-piece with lips or tongue. It would be in a very rare case indeed that this contact could take place when contaminated moisture was present.

More than this, it is unusual to find any dangerous germs. The most careful tests show this.

Paper money is even less likely to carry disease. The same is true of books, playthings, toilet articles and other things which have come in contact with contagious disease.

Of course, when we stop to think of it, if nature had not planned for our safety in this particular few persons would escape contagion. Infectious disease would all the time be found in every household.

Having said all this, I am frank to add that I wish some cheap, sensible simple mouth-piece or fixture could be invented to free us from the unpleasantness of the common telephone. It is not nearly so bad as the common drinking cup, but of course nothing else can ever be as vile as that. But there is a field here for a popular invention.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

F. W. W. Q—I am seventeen years of age, five feet four inches tall. What should I weigh? What should a woman of five feet five inches tall weigh? She is forty years of age.

2—If a goitre has been cured by treatment, is there a possibility of its recurrence?

A—You should weight about 122. She should weight about 140 pounds.

2—Depending upon the type of goitre. There may be a recurrence in some instances.

W. S. Q—Why is it that when there is nothing in the nasal passage the nose still feels full? Using the handkerchief does not give relief, but when I draw in a breath the waste is expelled through the mouth. I have no cold and my tonsils and adenoids have been removed. Would this cause unpleasant breath?

A—Either a catarrhal condition or some obstruction in the nose or throat. Have your doctor prescribe after examination. Keeping the passages clear will be helpful. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your questions.—Copyright, 1927.

Poems That Live.

LION AND LIONESS.

One night we were together, you and I,
And had unsown Assyria for a lair,
Before the walls of Babylon rose in air.
Low languid hills were heaped along the sky,
And white bones marked the wells of alkali,
When suddenly down the lionpath a sound....
The wild man-odor....then a crouch, a bound,
And the frail Thing fell quivering with a cry!
Your yellow eyes burned beautiful with light:
The dead man lay there quieted and white:
I roared my triumph over the desert wide,
Then stretched out, glad of the sands and satisfied:
And through the long, star-stilled Assyrian night,
I felt your body breathing by my side.

Editorial Comment.

A STATE OF WAR.

A state of war exists between society and the criminal element. The state and the nation are going to make common cause in this menacing conflict. One thing is certain, crime must be curbed and controlled or the entire fabric of civilization must go down—the public or the criminals must rule, and the public have decided that it isn't going to be the criminal.

There will be held in the near future in the City of Washington a national conference under the auspices of the National Crime commission. It has the approval of President Coolidge. It will not attempt to suggest any infringement on the rights of the states to administer criminal laws. That is their business. But by bringing together in national conference representatives of the state and national governments, it is believed much gain may be made by discussion and cooperation between such representatives of the jurisdictions upon which rests the responsibility for the suppression of crimes of all sorts.

The National commission has been doing great work. It is awakening the people to realization of the fact that they must fight or be submerged by the growing criminal elements and influences of the cities of the country. The murderer, the thug, the ravisher, the thief must go or society inevitably must sink beneath the waves of unlicensed criminality. By joining hands the government and the respective states may make way against the common enemy through co-ordination of plan and effort.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

CROSS-ATLANTIC AIR SERVICE.

Contemplation of the possibility of regular cross-Atlantic flying for passenger service brings a thrill that is not lessened by the realization of the wonderful advances that have been made during the past dozen or fifteen years. The performances of Lindbergh and Chamberlin have brought this achievement appreciably closer and already there are discussions of ways and means of safeguarding travelers by air between the ocean coasts, such as the establishing of floating landing stages.

It is now demonstrated that the Atlantic can be crossed by plane safely within thirty hours, perhaps within twenty-five hours. First one plane did it with only its pilot aboard. Then another plane did it with a pilot and a passenger. That others will make the effort, with larger capacity planes and perhaps with several persons aboard, is well night assured. The two feats just performed are merely the begining of a series of demonstrations.

It is evident from the experiences of Lindbergh and Chamberlin that weather will play a vitally important part in cross-Atlantic flying. Both airmen found themselves handicapped by sleet. It is believed that Nungesser and Coli failed because of this element, which caused their plane to become overweighted and to settle to sea or land. There is no known provision against such a factor of danger.

But when it is considered that the aeroplane has advanced to its present point through severe limitations, which seemed at the outset to be unconquerable, it is not too much to believe that the plane of tomorrow will be superior to those handicaps which now appear to be insuperable.—Washington Star.

UBIQUITOUS MONITIONS.

Speeders recently met with a new form of admonition in Paris. Between that city and fashionable Deauville is a favorite place to "let 'er out"—or whatever the French equivalent may be for that significant phrase—and ordinary warnings failed of salutary effect on the offenders. So police resorted to the novel expedient of establishing conspicuous first aid stations at intervals along the road, with the Red Cross flag prominently displayed and white coated surgeons, sometimes with instruments in their hands, standing ready to officiate at the imminent accident.

It worked well for a time. After passing the second station the speeders got the idea and slowed down. But they took another road back!

Ohio has something similar in the white crosses displayed where fatal accidents have taken place, one for each death, mutely eloquent warnings of the peril of speeding and carelessness. The French idea made a vivid impression by its very novelty, but for continual—and also, frequent—cautioning, easy of maintenance, the Ohio idea is the more permanently effective.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

A very young man with bell-bottomed trousers and oily hair confessed in a certain city police court the other day that he had struck his mother, after quarreling with her. After the judge had properly sentenced him to jail, the plea of the lad's mother saved him from a cell. There was quite a story about this incident in the newspapers. Strange there was nothing so unusual about it. A thousand mothers have pled for a thousand sons who have wronged them. A thousand mothers will do it again. It is love without hope of reward. Somebody has said that it is the way of life. It is not the way of life, but it is the way of mothers.

The dependability of the seasons is a comfort to man. When the grass comes green again in the spring, and the flowers bloom at the right time and trees show buds and leaves again, we have the same old feeling that nature can be depended on and that all is well. We have the same feeling about baseball. The world gets to looking pretty bad in the winter. It looked pretty bad this winter. But baseball comes. The same, old, dependable emotions are aroused. The same appeal is there. And we realize that man is not so bad after all. If he was he wouldn't like baseball. He wouldn't be so keen to go back to the afternoons of boyhood.

Under the British tax plan those Englishmen whose incomes run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars give about half to the state. That staggers the soapbox orator right off his soapbox. Even in America, where taxation of incomes is less severe than in England, the wealthies give an astonishing proportion to the government. It would be a good thing for street corner orators to have the facts before they preach.

More than $1,200,000,000 were sent in advertising in the United States in one year. Between fifty and sixty billions are spent every year by the leading motor car companies. Advertising surely hastens the production and consumption of raw materials. Advertising is one of the great social benefits of mankind.—Copyright, 1927.

Views of Those in Public Eye.

JAMES W. WADSWORTH, JR.

James Wolcott Wadsworth, Jr., was born at Geneseo, New York, August 12, 1877. Since 1899 he has been in the livestock and general farming business at Mount Morris, New York. He was a member of the New York assembly from 1905 to 1910, serving as speaker for four of these years. From 1915 to 1927 he was United States senator from New York, two terms, being defeated for reelection, in the fall of 1926, by Robert F. Wagner, of New York City. He is a son of the late ex-Congressman James W. Wadsworth.

Former Senator Wadsworth, holding that hyprocrisy in politics is a greater menace to the nation than the corrupt use of money in politics, says:

"I believe the evil which today threatens to succeed the corrupt use of money, is the evil of political hypocrisy. I think it is not far wrong to say that that hypocrisy in politics is just as demoralizing and wicked as the corrupt use of money.

"A man guilty of the corrupt use of money can be dealt with under the penal code. But the man who states things he does not believe, or opposes things in which he does believe can not be prosecuted. If we are to keep our government sound and clean, we must be on guard as much against intellectual corruption as people have learned to be against the other kind.

"The prohibition question has done infinite harm in that respect. We should have no quarrel with any man or woman who entertains deep set convictions on that question or any other. But we certainly must be on our guard against the man who says publicly one thing and in private does the other. The moral fibre of the nation can't withstand that sort of thing very long."

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, June 10 — It has always struck me there is more bustling romance encompassed in New York's great railroad terminals than any other place in the metropolis. They are like great cathedrals suddenly enveloped in a mad activity and a raucous confusion.

The ramps are acrawl with scuttling humanity who appear to be in a delirium of excitement. Under the vaulted domes all humanity becomes pigmies. At the end of the dim tunnels are blobs of light and beyond sun-baked tenements, zigzaging hillsides and perhaps adventure.

There is the luxurious dead gloom of the coaches which, when the gates are opened, magically bristle with life. No general going into battle is more heroic to me than the grease-smeared engineer mounting his cab and charging recklessly into the lonely night.

Every one entering a railroad terminal looks off across the continent or out to some suburban pavement end appears to be hushed in a little ecstasy of anticipation. It may be that the city dweller only a smell of fresh earth and a tangy breath from the sea, but it holds vigoration.

Each big station has its hundred dramas a day—a lost child, a shackled prisoner on the Sing Sing, a pale face on a stretcher bound for an Arizona tent, a philandering husband tiptoed at the train gates with a blond, a blushing bride with her creaking groom, tagged immigrants off for the Dakota wheatfields and so on.

But the exuberance, the happy side of the railroad terminal is mirrored in the flashing smiles of the red caps. Somehow they, too, seem to feel the tug of adventure. No class of workers meeting the public offer so much for such little rewards.

In the early morning the terminals are full of mystery and a touch of the seamy side of life. Shadowy figures not see during the day, are there. Strange underworld appointments often kept in the arched depths.

Point blank inquiry of an irritated South Dakota reader: "Do you really get paid for writing drivel about the most over-rated city in the world?" With blushes suffusing a pale, tired face our hero replied, "Yes, ma'am."

A Kansas oil man holds the record for punishment among the theatrical "angels." With a $3,000 take-in, he continued a $10,000-a-week show until he lost $325,000. Even the general manager could stand it no longer and resigned.

Most "angels" are inspired in their philanthropy by what cynical Broadway calls "a love interest" in the production. The Kansan, however, is said to have been impelled solely by love of the drama. In any event, "the angel" rarely prospers. Successful theatrical production requires showmanship and showmanship comes only through experience.

A chorus girl met an admirer in Cuba last winter. He was about sixty, but one of the aging Don Juans full of dash and attention. She liked him and they corresponded, until they met in New York. "He was all right in a tropical climate," she said, "but up here where there is the slightest drop in temperature he is full of sniffles and chills. If I've got to have something shaking around the house I'll make it a Charleston dancer."

Up in the Bronx are many who cling to family customs—regular nights to dine with Aunt Ernie, call on Uncle Phillip and Sunday visits to the graves of the dead. Down Park avenue I saw a son the other evening who had not seen his mother in five weeks. He rushed in for a minute to give her a pecking kiss as he lived two apartment buildings away.—Copyright, 1927.

Dinner Stories.

"How, madam," demanded the attorney for the defense in a compensation case, "can you prove that the thumb you lost in the accident was worth $5,000?"

"It was the thumb," retorted plaintiff, "under which I kept my husband."

It was speeders' day in police court. The first offender vowed he was traveling only fifteen miles an hour when apprehended. Next a notorious fast driver told the judge he was going only ten miles.

"And how fast were you going?" asked the judge of Tim O'Brien, third in line.

"May it please the court," said Tim with straight face, "an' I wuz backin' up, your honor."

A member of a congregation, becoming asleep at a sermon the minister was preaching, wrote the single word, "Fool," on a sheet of paper, called an usher to him and had it delivered to the minister in the middle of his sermon.

The minister opened the paper and read what was written, then he said:

"An unusual thing has happened. A member of the congregation has signed his name without writing the letter."

Twenty Years Ago.

This day was Monday.

Miss Ethel Z. Kanable and Mr. Frank Allen were married by Rev. C. E. Rowley.

Joseph Risler, fifty-two, of Caledonia, was killed by the cars a mile east of that village.

Two delegates and the pastor of the hurches of the Marion Baptist Asso-iation are convening this afternoon at mmanuel Baptist Church, for the pur-se of considering the candidacy of F. Porter, at present pastor of the espect Baptist Church, for ordination a minister. Dr. T. F. Chambers of anville, executive secretary of the o Baptist Convention, and Rev. bert Hughes of Bucyrus, superintend-t of the northern district of the Ohio ptist Association, are also in attend-ce.

If Mr. Porter is accepted for the min-re he will be ordained at a special rvice at Emmanuel Church at 7:30 lock tonight at which time Rev. E. L. lliday, pastor, will preach an ordina-n sermon. Rev. E. N. Long of rander will make the charge to the candidate and Rev. H. S. Foster of Delaware, the charge to the church. Reverend Hughes will give the ordaining prayer.

Dr. U. S. Davis, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, will present Mr. Porter a Bible and certificate and Rev. Harry Manning of West Mansfield will extend him the "right hand of fellowship."

Churches represented at the meet are Trinity, Fite Memorial, Emmanuel, Wyandot, Morral, LaRue, Union, Richwood, Springdale, West Mansfield, Ostrander, Delaware, Prospect and Green Camp Baptist Churches.

Dinner will be served by women of the church in the church parlors at 6 o'clock.

APPROXIMATELY $45 IS CLEARED AT SUPPER

Approximately $45 was cleared from the penny supper given by members of Harmonie Society, Salem Evangelical Church, last night at the church. Proceeds will be used in the church work. There was unusually good attendance.

CONDITION IMPROVED

Miss Lucile Rathell, who is ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Rathell, 400 Blaine-av, is reported in improved condition today.

NEW PARKING SYSTEM PRAISED BY MOTORISTS

Work of City Service Department Relieves Crowded Traffic

Motorists today were congratulating the city service and safety departments on the system of street marking when results of the work were evident for the first time yesterday with increased driving space on streets where parking is permitted on both sides.

Probably one of the most outstanding improvements and one that adds immeasurable to safety in driving is noticeable on S. State-st between Center and Church-sts.

Cars on both sides of this thoroughfare are now parked at a greater angle, giving ample room for two cars to pass. Previous to the marking, cars were parked, in some instances, almost vertical with the curbings.

While the new system of marking cuts down the parking space this inconvenience is more than offset by the improvement in traffic conditions on the thoroughfare.

SOCIETY IS HOST

Epworth Standard Bearers Entertained at Dinner

Members of the Foreign Missionary Society, Epworth M. E. Church, entertained members of the Standard Bearers at a six o'clock dinner last night in the dining room of the church. The room was attractively decorated with baskets of garden flowers. Later an entertaining program was enjoyed which included a talk by Miss Lockhead, a student at Ohio Wesleyan University. The meeting was well attended.

Mrs. John H. Bain opened the program hour with a devotional service. Miss Zelma Schweinfurth, president of the Standard Bearers, gave a brief talk in which she voiced the appreciation of the organization for the entertainment, and Miss Ruth Jacobs entertained with two readings. Mrs. Lloyd Schiller sang "Heart of Mine," T. Galloway, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Dennis Gompf, and Mrs. B. L. George gave an interesting talk on "Your Place in Life," and read a paper on "The Womanhood of China." The program hour closed with a piano solo by Miss Ruth Johnson. Mrs. F. B. Morrison presided as program leader.

The next meeting will be July 14.

DRUIDS' LODGE MAKES PLANS FOR JULY PICNIC

Plans were made for a picnic in July for members and their families at a meeting of the Druids' Lodge last night. It was announced that George Dutt and Herbert Wade will leave Sunday for Newark where they will represent the local lodge at the annual state convention to be held Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The next regular meeting will be in one week.

REELECT LEADER

Mrs. Walter Bailey Heads Silver Cross Circle

Mrs. Walter Bailey was re-elected leader at the annual meeting of members of the Silver Cross Circle, King's Daughters, last night at the home of Mrs. J. A. Lott, E. Church-st. Mrs. Marvin L. Wilson was chosen first vice leader; Mrs. W. N. Morecraft, second vice leader; Mrs. J. A. Lott, secretary and Mrs. B. C. Rice, treasurer. Mrs. C. G. Rice conducted the Bible Study lesson which was on the third epistle of John. Members of the work and relief committees gave their reports and Mrs. J. L. Jolley gave a report on the district convention held last month at Bellefontaine. Mrs. A. W. Lares, Mrs. J. A. Lott and Mrs. J. W. Jolley were appointed a committee to arrange for the annual picnic to be held in two weeks which will mark the close of the season. Twenty-eight members responded to roll call.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Walter Miley, Mrs. V. C. Kissell, Mrs. N. K. Reed, Mrs. Rena Douce and Mrs. Harry Smith.

"CHURCH TRAGEDY"

Revival Sermon Delivered by Rev. E. W. Petticord

"A Church Tragedy" was the subject of the sermon preached by Rev. E. W. Petticord of Columbus, who is conducting revival services at Oakland Evangelical Church, at the church last night.

Reverend Petticord had taken as his text, Gen. 19-14, and based his sermon on the story of Lot, who chose to live in Sodom, and by so doing lost his influence. "God has a message for Lot to deliver," Reverend Petticord said, "but when he delivered it he seemed as one that mocked. So when Christians forget God and fail they lose their influence over men and their right to speak for God in a way that brings conviction. Christians should so live that when God gives them a message, their lives will support their testimony and hence they will bless their fellowmen."

Clyde Kelly of Columbus, pianist with the party, sang a solo, "What More Could He Do?"

There will be a service at 7:30 o'clock tonight but none Saturday night. Services will continue Sunday.

SOCIETIES MEET

Mrs. Baldauf Hostess To Trinity Lutheran Groups

Mrs. Lloyd Baldauf entertained members of Trinity Lutheran Ladies Aid and Mission Society and a number of guests yesterday afternoon at her home south of Marion on the Mauta-Owenard. During the business session plans were made for a festival at the church in the near future. The pastor, Rev. F. M. Koepplin, presented the monthly lesson topic. Guests included Mrs. Ernest Rothfuss and Mrs. Harry Kaelber, of Marion; Mrs. Paul Hinds and Misses Emma Leffler, Gladys Seiter, Mildred Leffler, Esther Seiter, Evadell Schweinfurth, Pauline Seiter, Alfreda Seiter, Pauline Leffler and Donne Mae Seiter. The next meeting will be July 14 with Mrs. Carl Baseler, Gooding-Davids-pk.

TRINITY BAPTIST CIRCLE HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

Mrs. W. W. Kerr, Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis and Rev. and Mrs. U. S. Davis were entertained as guests at the meeting of members of Circle No. 3, Trinity Baptist Church, yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Tachanen, 286 S. Prospect-st. Eighteen members were in attendance.

It was decided to discontinue meetings during July and August, the next meeting to be Sept. 8 at the church. A social hour was enjoyed and a lovely luncheon served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Martha Tachanen.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

Mrs. H. E. Cardiff was hostess to members of the Woman's Universalist Missionary Society yesterday afternoon at her home, 363 Chestnut-st. Mrs. Elizabeth Lindsey, president, conducted devotionals, followed by a song service. A parcel post sale was held and plans made for a picnic in July as well as the next regular meeting July 14 at the home of Mrs. Lee Peacock, Franconia-av. Lunch was served and a social time enjoyed.

MARION SHRINE PLANS FOR AFTERNOON PARTY

Members of the social committee, of which Mrs. Mary J. Evans is chairman, will be hostess at the social meeting and tea which will mark the close of the season for members of Marion Shrine, No. 15, White Shrine of Jerusalem, Monday afternoon, in the rooms of the Masonic Temple. Invitations will be issued to the couple and [illegible] o'clock.

SEWING CIRCLE

St. Mary's Group Holds Annual Bridge, Euchre Party

Mrs. J. A. Schweter, Mrs. A. A. Starner, Mrs. J. K. Schwinger and Mrs. Adolphe Bruns entertained members of the St. Mary's Sewing Circle at their annual bridge and euchre party, with which they close the season, yesterday afternoon at K. of C. Hall. The room was attractively decorated with baskets of peonies and summer flowers.

Mrs. William Kelly was awarded high honors at bridge and Mrs. David Martin honors for high score at euchre.

Mrs. John Hogan, outgoing president, Miss Kate Dee, outgoing secretary, and Mrs. Henry Tochum, outgoing treasurer, were presented attractive gifts, complimenting them on their work as officials of the society.

A delightful luncheon was served and a social hour enjoyed.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Johanna Bianchi Diegel, daughter of Mr and Mrs. H. R. Diegel Wilson-av, underwent an operation for removal of tonsils today at the Frederick C. Smith Clinic, E. Church-st.

A MARION NURSE HIGHLY INDORSES THE NEW KONJOLA

She Tells How Celebrated Medicine Ended Years of Stomach Trouble.

Konjola has received the most startling voluntary testimonials ever written by Marion people. In every section of the city, and nearby towns, men and women are describing the work of this new medicine after it has delivered them from their health troubles, such as disordered stomach, liver, kidneys or rheumatic pains.

MRS. EVA TRICKEY

Just a few days ago, Mrs. Eva Trickey, a practising nurse, address 797 E. Center-st, Marion, made the following statement about Konjola in her report to the Konjola Man at the Stump & Sams Pharmacy, 121 S. Main-st, this city, who is interviewing throngs of people daily and explaining Konjola.

"This is the first medicine that actually ended my stomach troubles," said Mrs. Trickey, "and I know it is only right to indorse such a remedy to others who suffer.

"I had my first attack of stomach trouble ten years ago. In recent years my case grew worse. Invariably, after every meal, quantities of gas would form, crowding my chest and heart. A feeling like a heavy rock appeared in my stomach, then shortness of breath. Sharp pains centered around my heart muscles. These attacks lasted for days at a time and kept growing more severe. At last I was subject to incessant vomiting. Nothing I ate would digest. I was dreadfully nervous at all times.

"I tried special dieting for weeks at a time, took special treatments and had the best attention, but nothing would stop my troubles. I heard of this much talked about medicine, the new Konjola. I made a trial of it, and it proved beyond a shadow of a doubt to be exactly what I needed. I am entirely free of stomach troubles now. My digestion is perfect and I eat what I want. The heart flutterings, heavy feeling in my stomach and shortness of breath are all things of the past. I completed my course of Konjola and waited a few weeks to see if my old haunts would return, but I have never suffered since. This is the first time I can say I am entirely out of misery in years, and I am strongly recommending this Konjola because I know what the medicine will do."

The Konjola Man is at the Stump Pharmacy (Stump & Sams), 121 S. Main-st, Marion, where he is daily meeting the local public and [illegible] and explaining the merits of this [illegible]. Free [illegible]

Sixty Children To Take Part In Play Scheduled Sunday at Epworth M. E.

Portrayal of Story of Gretchen To Be Presented at Night Under Direction of Mrs. George T. Myers and Three Assistants

Sixty children will take part in the portrayal of the story of Gretchen delightfully told in the Children's Day fantasy to be presented at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night at Epworth M. E. Church, under the direction of Mrs George T. Myers, assisted Mrs Willard Linton, Mrs. B G. Campbell, Miss Catherine Sloan and Miss Gladys Brobst, with Miss Helen Carhart at the piano. Costumes for the production are in charge of Mrs. W. E. Orcutt and Miss Elisabeth Hinklin is in charge of the publicity. Children of the Kindergarten Department, of which Mrs. Homer Waddell is superintendent and the Cradle Roll Department, of which Mrs. T. J. Mills is superintendent, will give their Children's Day exercises Sunday morning at 10 and 10:30 o'clock.

Story of Poor Girl

The fantasy is the story of Gretchen a poor little girl who has decided never to go to school again because she is scorned by her playmates. She enters a garden, where after crying herself to sleep, she has a most wonderfuld dream in which she enters a fairyland The elves and fairies tell her it is a good old world and to prove it they summon the birds, bees, flowers, butterflies, the sun and the rainbow who tell her the lessons of life as they have learned them. Each of the six studies summoned by the fairy queen, then tell Gretchen just why they are so valuable to mankind and create in the little girl a thirst for knowledge. Remembering her humble circumstances little Gretchen tells the fairy queen she can not continue her search for knowledge because she has no means. The story is brought to a beautiful climax when the fairly queen summons the "board of education" whose members help her out of the difficulty in a gratifying and pleasing surprise. The ringing of a bell wakens Gretchen who remembering her glorious dream decides to return to her school and studies feeling they never again will be dull or uninteresting

Preceding the fantasy will be a group of orchestra numbers, under the direction of William Dowler and a responsive reading by Miss Ula McNamara and Miss Kathryn Rinehart. A duet, "I Think When I Read that Sweet Story of Old," will be sung by Miss Gertrude Giddings and Miss Mary Heminger.

The character of Gretchen will be portrayed by Esther Topliff and the queen by Dorothy Pace. Others taking part in the production will be George Setterfield, sun; Ruth Williams, south wind; Dorothy Forry, rose; Josephine Baer, bee; Mary Peters, forget-me-not; Opal Setterfield, butterfly; Margaret Kunz, daisy; Grace Wise, blue bird.

Dwight Carhart, Theodore Myers, Junior Somannstine, Howard Fogle, Richard Fogle, Warren Callahan, Robert Mercness, elves; Annabelle Leffler, Carol Heffelfinger, June Wilson, Mary Ann Pavelle, Virginia Llewellyn, fairies; Jean Williams, Virginia Wilson, Pauline Parish, Ruth Ella Wilson, Martha McAfee, Elsie Jane Knapp, June Thomas, flower girls; Charlotte Llewellyn, Mary King, Josephine Zeisler, Lucille Coffey, Elizabeth Predmore, Florence Maag, rainbow chorus; Ben Jacoby, Hayes Newby, John Guthrie, John Pickerel, Wilbur Evans, Robert Ruhlman, courtiers; Allen Wylie, page.

Sixty Attend Benefit Dance

Approximately 60 young people enjoyed the "sock social" and benefit dance given by members of St. Rita Guild, St. Paul's Episcopal Church, last night in the Parish House of the church. Music was furnished by the "Rythm Pals."

In charge of arrangements for the party were Mrs. Fred Haberman, Jr., Mrs. Walter E. Hane and Miss Virginia Cobbold.

SOCIETY MEETS

Mrs. Thomas F. Maher Conducts Devotionals

Mrs. Thomas F. Maher conducted devotionals at the meeting of members of the Woman's Missionary Society, First United Brethren Church yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. D. Williams, Blaine-av. A report of the Sandusky Branch Convention of U. B. Missionary Societies held in the United Brethren Church in Lima May 17-19, was given by Mrs. W. E. Coler, Mrs. C. O. Bender and Miss Katie Cromer, delegates.

A paper, "Traveling by Hammock to Give the Good News in Africa" was given by Mrs. Lucretia Fowler and a leaflet, "Delivering the Message by Ox-Cart in the Philippines" by Mrs. Gleana Davis. Mrs. P. B. Carrier discussed "How the Message Is Delivered in Porto Rico" after which Mrs. Bender gave a paper, "Delivering the Message by Rickshaw in Japan." The program closed with a poem, "Hindered Christ" given by Mrs. Walter Holderness.

During a social hour luncheon was served by Mrs. Williams and the assistant hostesses, Mrs. Sam Lonber, Mrs. J. Rayl, Mrs. Lilliam Dunn, and Miss Cromer. Plans were made for a picnic to be held Tuesday, July 12, the place to be decided later.

MRS. CATHERINE COFFEY INSTALLED AS CHAPLAIN

Mrs. Catherine Coffey was installed as chaplain for the remainder of the year at the meeting of Moosheart Legion last night at L. O. O. M. Hall, E. Church-st. The next meeting will be held next Thursday night.

Lecture Course Program Costing $1,500 Planned By Harding High Seniors

Sum Includes Only Payments to Talent; Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Noted Lecturer and Radio Speaker, Booked for Address

A lecture course program valued at $1,500 will be brought to Marion next year by the senior class of Harding High School, according to announcement made today by K. H. Marshall, principal of the high school, who, assisted by a committee of teachers and students, has just chosen and booked the course.

The $1,500 will pay for the talent, that sum not to include the cost of a hall and other expenses of presenting the course.

Featuring the series of programs next year is the lecture to be given by S. Parkes Cadman, noted lecturer and radio speaker.

Other Numbers

The other five numbers of the program include a play, "The Family Upstairs," a comedy of American home life by Harry Delf, which will feature Noah Beilhars. Of a totally different character but equally promising is the "Main Street Smile Program" which will be presented by Lura Forbes, reader.

Maurice G. Hindus, announced as "author, orator and traveler," whose articles in leading American journals have made his name famous throughout the states, will appear as one of the numbers and be heard in a lecture. He is the author of "Russian Peasants and the Revolution."

Two musical companies have been booked, a 'Rainbow Sextet," a group of women in a saxaphone band and orchestra directed by Sue Ernest Huling, known for her whistling ability, and "The Musketeers," a singing novelty, with readings and impersonations by H. Ruthven McDonald, a Canadian.

NAME DELEGATE

Mrs. Kohler To Represent Benefit Association at Meet

Mrs. John Kohler was elected delegate to the state convention of the Women's Benefit Association to be held in Toledo June 14, 15 and 16, at a meeting of members of the Marion Review, Wednesday afternoon at Community Home, S. High-st. Arrangements for sending a number of Marion representatives to the Toledo meet were also made. Mrs. Nellie C. V. Heppert, of Akron, great commander, will preside. According to word received here from the Toledo committee, special arrangements are being made for entertainment of the guests.

At that convention eight delegates will be elected to represent Ohio at the quadrennial supreme review of the Women's Benefit Association at Port Huron, Mich., in July. The honor of being elected a delegate carries with it the pleasure of a sojourn at the Lake Huron Women's Benefit Association Camp where the convention will be held.

Mrs. Dora Thompson of Willard, district deputy, gave a talk along lines of interest to the order at Wednesday's meeting and two candidates were initiated.

SUNSHINE CLASS

Prospect M. E. Group Enjoys Guest Day Party

Mrs. Harry Wilhelm, Mrs. Paul Sprang, Mrs. Ora Young, Miss Florence Dietsch and Miss Bertha Dietsch were hostesses when members of the Sunshine Class, Prospect Street M. E. Sunday School entertained at a guest day party last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm, Mt. Vernon-av. Husbands and friends of the members were guests and the party included about 50. Mrs. John Schweinfurth, Mrs. John Kerr, Mrs. LeRoy Diehl and Miss Vesta Mae Schweinfurth composed a quartet which entertained with several numbers, accompanied at the piano by Miss Edith Wanner. Following a season of contests and a social hour refreshments were served. Members of the class will meet in August at the home of Mrs. Austin Boyd, Spencer-st, with Mrs. Fred Haas as assistant hostess.

Evangelical Missionary Society Observes 34th Anniversary at Meeting

Calvary Church Woman's Group Holds Session at Home of Mrs. Kathryn Zachman, Among Organization's First Members

The home of one of the earliest members of the Woman's Missionary Society of Calvary Evangelical Church, Mrs. Kathryn Zachman, S. Prospect-st, was chosen as the place for the celebration of the thirty-fourth anniversary of the organizing of the society, yesterday afternoon. The organization was chartered in June, 1893.

Especial tribute was paid the earliest members and officers of the society, a number of whom are still active in the organization. Of the officials only one was in attendance, although four are living, Mrs. J. F. Kanaga, wife of the pastor of the church at that time, who was the first president, is now in Cleveland. Mrs. B. H. Wonder, first vice president, now 89 years old, makes her home in Marion but was unable to attend the meeting. Mrs. R F. Stull, first recording secretary, an active member of the society, had been called to Chicago due to illness and was unable to attend. Miss Amanda Stull, first corresponding secretary, was in attendance. The first treasurer of the organization, Mrs. Helen Shrock, recently died.

Lesson study was in charge of Mrs. G. R. Rutherford and was followed by a pleasing program, opening with a piano solo by Mrs. J. W. Baker. Mrs. Elizabeth Fox and Mrs. S. V. Millisor conducted a "praise service" after which a ladies quartet, composed largely of charter members of the society, entertained with several selections.

History of the organization was given by Mrs. E. Tittelbaugh after which a tribute to the organization and early members was given by Mrs. W. E. Kimbel, a representative of the second generation of the society.

A violin solo was played by Miss Rose Marie Baker and a paper, "How We Should Continue Our Work" was given by Mrs. Oscar Bodley, a representative of the third generation. Greetings by Rev. Clinton L. Allen, pastor of the church, was followed by a reminiscent hour arranged for the pleasure of first officials and early members. The program closed with the singing, in unison, of "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross." A delightful luncheon was served during a social hour.

George K. Foye, of St. Petersburg, Fla., is the guest of his mother, Mrs. Josephine Foye, E. Center-st.

...RRI, striving for the gate, found ...e way blocked by a score of ... then he heard Benna's voice, ... no whit of its bell-like quality, ...nder the stress of the occasion.

Called on ... show at his best, his sword-... was little short of marvelous and ...natural cries and groans sounded ... him as wounded men, nursing ...nds, shrank away and opened a ...down which he made progress to-... the gate.

... a man dropped with a gaping ... whose body Larry had never ... nor could Benna have sent home the thrust that felled him. He heard the head kaid's harsh tones:

"Look well where you strike, fool; you have laid out one of the guard."

Evidently here was another of Omar ben Medjad's promises, that of goodly secret thrusts, coming true. He found the gate was drawing nearer, then with a burst of speed, his blade flashing like living light, he literally carved his way forward until he saw the surface of the gate directly before him. Now, with a quick shifting of his body he turned and looked for Benna. He saw her, fighting valiantly, giving and taking thrusts that any man might have been proud of, but on the verge of succumbing to weight of numbers.

Hitherto he had been loath to use his automatic, but now, seeing the dire peril that threatened the girl he loved he threw his compunctions to the four winds and drew the gun. At its first barking blast a man dropped, kicked and lay still. Again and again, then once more it roared, then the wall of steel about Benna melted and was naught. Cries of fear sounded and men were running, seeking safety off in the gloom. Larry called quickly:

"To me, Little Flower, to me!" Savagely, on the instant, he cursed himself for a doddering idiot for if there was any who heard, he would recognize the fact that Larry had called, not as to a man, but as one would call to a woman. He hoped desperately that the breach had been overlooked.

Swiftly Benna joined him, her breath coming in short gasps and a tiny blotch of scarlet staining her burnouse above the old wound. The sight sent him literally in a frenzy and holstering his automatic he seized his sword and was among the retreating guards like a cyclone, striking and hewing with the savage ferocity of a tiger, with the speed and power of three men. He cleared his way among them until once more they broke and fled to safety.

And now no further doubts were in their minds as to this man being a wizard. This magician, it was plain to be seen, was the greatest of them all, for who else save the very sultan of all the wizards could wield so mighty a sword, so destructive a blade?

Larry found himself alone in the midst of crumpled bodies, then he heard a chuckle and saw the kaid-el-mia peering from behind a protecting pillar.

"Well done, O Youssef el-Habbaani; you fight better than the mightiest warrior. By Allah, you may be a wizard, but you strike like a soldier, or I am no judge of men. Go, the way is clear, and speed your going."

Larry found the gate ajar, no doubt more work of the kaid, and throwing a brief farewell through the night, he added a quick word of thanks, then was through the portal, Benna beside him. The girl would have dashed off swiftly, but Larry, his muscles steel by reason of the terrific urge that was on him, picked her up lightly—holding her as though she were a child—which, at that moment she almost seemed to be, and dashed forward into the gloom, coming almost instantly to the black, protecting wall of the forest.

Still he continued on, holding the girl lightly against him, nor did he pause for a full hour; then, beginning at last to feel the strain on his muscles, he paused beneath a stunted lotus tree, where the grass was long and the fallen leaves thick, and set her gently on her feet.

She looked at him with her star-like eyes in the gloom and he caught the faint murmur of her soft, liquid voice:

"How brave you are, Larry; how mighty. Truly, you are a man any woman might be proud of loving." Then woman-like after the worst was over, she fainted.

Once again he was called on to minister to her, once again he brought forth his tiny medicine kit. Baring the old wound he saw that it had opened at the bottom, where the cut had been deepest. He found no fresh marks, and was thankful. Before he had finished dressing her hurt she had recovered her senses and lay quiet as he fixed the last piece of tape. Putting his kit away he dropped beside her and as he let the air enter his lungs in great mouthfuls, he realized finally how completely worn out he was.

Off in the night they heard a crashing in the underbrush and the clamoring of loud voices. One, harsh and commanding, that spoke last, Larry recognized.

"Keep quiet, fools, and search diligently. You would alarm the devil with your noise. He was carrying the boy and could not go far, for the lad was hurt. I saw blood on his burnouse."

It was the voice of the evil-visaged kaid. Evidently a searching party was out for them. Larry was profoundly thankful for the darkness and pressing Benna's hand gently, he whispered:

"It is more than probable that they will miss us. They are passing a good hundred yards distant. Quiet, Little Flower, and we shall escape them yet."

His spine bristled as a low whisper reached them, and with rapid movement he reached his feet, automatic poised and waiting. The whisper reached them again:

"Peace, I mean you no harm. I merely come to give you a message."

It was the kaid el mia. Larry gasped, astonished.

"How came you to find us?"

"I followed not far behind you, wizard. Listen to what I have to say. On your way south from here, through the valley, you will come to a hut, a filthy hovel, in which dwells a holy man. Go to him and use all your wizard's powers in befogging him, in creating mystery that he may not fathom in full. You will not know it, but this holy man will be the Marabout of Abrar, most powerful man in Moslem today, under the Sultan. Let on at no time that you know him, remembering, however, that he will know you and that he will recognized Allal Abdi."

"I understand, kaid; and I am to understand this message comes from Omar ben Medjad. Is it not so?"

The other breathed a low assent, then:

"But now I must speak of that which brought me here more than any other single thing. I shall ask you a question and you must answer me truthfully, for all the plans of a great nation, the destiny of at least two people, depend on your reply. Tell me—is your companion a woman?"

Startled, Larry bit his tongue on the involuntary acquiescence that had sprung to his lips. Instead, he countered:

"Is not your question rather absurd, kaid?"

For answer the kaid gave his beard a peculiar twist and a certain grimace that was on his face dropped away, to be relaced by another that brought vividly to mind a countenance Larry had faced not many days since.

"Bou Hamara," he breathed. "You were the kaid el-mia?"

But the other was again working with his beard and again the lineaments of his face were changing, so that when he looked at Larry a second time the latter gasped in utter amazement, for he was gazing into the face of none other than Omar ben Medjad!

Love's Embers

A Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

WOLF HOUND

I FELT very much as if I had a front seat at a play as from behind the huge folds of the Sunday newspaper I peered at the red-bearded man sitting on the beach near the gate leading to the Montauk-bound train. There was even something theatrical in the pose of the man as he sprawled with apparent carelessness on the bench, although to me he looked like nothing so much as a monstrous red spider watching for some unwary fly to stray near him. His flaming hair and beard were most conspicuous, and I noticed that numerous curious glances were being sent toward him by the passengers gathering for the eastern-island train.

But he was as indifferent to curious glances as I felt that he would have been to condemnatory ones had any been sent in his direction. He had but one patent purpose—intent watchfulness, and he was carrying it out faithfully.

Then past me moved a little procession which attracted the attention of every person who caught a glimpse of it. The young man whose magnificent wolfhound had lunged against me was moving rapidly toward the gate of the eastern island train, his body bent so that both hands tightly grasped the collar of the animal. Behind him two train porters carried enough smart, if somewhat worn luggage to outfit a half dozen ordinary American young men going out of the city for a vacation. That this was his purpose I inferred from the well-filled golf bag and the tennis racquet which formed part of the load that one porter had tucked around his person in the mysterious and efficient manner known only to his craft.

For a second, in the picturesque passing of the colorful youth, I almost forgot to watch the red-bearded man, whose odd actions had so puzzled me. When my eyes turned back to him it was to find that I needed a new metaphor to describe him. He was no longer a watchful spider, but rather like a catamount gathering himself for a spring. He had drawn himself compactly together, and his eyes beneath their queerly drooping lids were fixed upon the young man with the wolfhound. And the little procession had hardly entered the train shed before my odd neighbor, with a furtive, almost catlike air investing his movements, rose to his feet and followed them through.

With my excitement and my sense of the dramatic steadily mounting, I resolved to sit where I was until the gates should clang upon the outward-bound train. I wanted to assure myself that the red-bearded man really had gone upon it. That knowledge would confirm my suspicion, almost conviction, that he had been waiting for the sole purpose of of determining whether the young man with the wolfhound would board the outward-bound train. He must have expected that he would and had come up to the city to trail the young man back again. Yet from his stealthy actions I was sure that the youth with the dog had no suspicion that he was being followed and knew nothing of the red-bearded man, at least in his present disguise.

A thrill of pleasurable excitement shot through me. It always comes when some mysterious, absorbing problem presents itself to me. It was the reason for my keen enjoyment of the work I did under Lillian in the Secret Service during the World War. As I settled back to wait the departure of the train I told myself scathingly that I had no right to laugh at Katie for her "scenario soul." I possessed one ridiculously akin to it.

I did not permit my self-flagellation, however, to keep my speculations from following the ill-assorted pair who were about to travel upon the same train to the east end of the island. Two men more unlike, farther apart socially, than the uncouth red-bearded man and the dapper youth with the wolfhound could not be imagined.

"Dapper!" I took back the word, although in a way it described the young man. But I felt that I must cast about for some more dignified word to describe the tall young man who had just disappeared into the train shed.

Eczema Itched And Burned Severely Cuticura Healed

"My baby started breaking out with eczema when he was about two months old. It was in blisters and itched and burned severely causing him to scratch. His clothing aggravated the breaking out, and he lost much sleep on account of it. His face was cross and fretful and kept me awake nights.

"I tried different remedies which seemed to help for a while and then the trouble would break out again. When he was about nine months old I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. It helped him and when he was thirteen months old he was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Chas. Urban, Larrabee, Iowa, Aug. 4, 1926.

Recipes for New and Novel Dishes; Household Ideas and Suggestions

Timely desserts are the subject of today's recipes. There are people who say they never eat desserts. But I have always felt that they were not quite human. Personally the dessert course can make or mar the meal for me, and I think there are many who feel as I do. Pineapples, strawberries and rhubarb are in the limelight just now, and consequently the recipes feature these three fruits made into deserts.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Strawberries a la Sherry—For each quart of strawberries take the juice of one lemon and a cup of powdered sugar. Mix thoroughly, let stand ten minutes and serve with plain cake or wafers.

French Pie—Have rhubarb sauce ready made. Line a buttered pie plate with good short crust, finish the edge by marking with the floured tine of a fork, prick the bottom with a fork and dust with a little flour. Lay a round crust on top, flour again and lay on another layer. Then bake until the crusts are done. When cool, remove the crusts, fill the pie quarter full, then lay on one crust, cover with a layer of rhubarb and put on the other. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve.

Rice Mold with Pineapple—One-half envelope gelatin, one-fourth cup cold water, one-half cup scalded pineapple juice, one-half cup sugar, few grains salt, one cup cooked rice, one cup whipped cream, one tablespoon lemon juice. Soak gelatin in cold water five minutes, and dissolve by standing cup in hot water. Add pineapple juice, sugar and salt to rice. Strain into this the gelatin, and mix thoroughly; cool slightly, and add whipped cream and lemon juice. Turn into molds lined with slices of pineapple. Chill, and serve with or without whipped cream. Other fruits may be used in place of pineapple.

The Improved SHELL Way Takes Only the GASOLINE From the CRUDE
The specifications in general use take the gasoline from the crude with fractions of the heavier and less volatile elements.
The SHELL way (400° End Point) takes only the gasoline from the crude—producing a higher gravity gasoline—extra dry, clean-burning and wonderfully powerful and effective.

The NEW Shell . . . 400 "Extra Dry" . . . has scored a tremendous success from the start. Sales are rolling up . . . gaining momentum . . . breaking all records . . . as more and more motorists find that this fuel is just what they have been looking for.

A higher grade . . . more volatile . . . more powerful gasoline . . . at the price of the ordinary kind!

At one stroke (reducing the end point to 400°) . . . Shell made a revolutionary departure in gasoline refining . . . a change that immediately put Shell on a higher plane . . . in a class by itself . . . the greatest gasoline value on the market.

It's EXTRA DRY . . . which means it is unusually free from heavy, greasy, less volatile parts that deaden the action of the motor. It's purer, cleaner, finer, more powerful . . . and as a consequence, improves the performance of any car and adds immeasurably to the joy of driving.

It's easy to prove these facts for yourself. Wait till your tank is nearly empty . . . then fill it up with 400 "Extra Dry" . . . and note the difference.

All feminists look with longing eyes on Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, but she doesn't seem a bit ambitious.

But Mrs. McCormick!—one of the ablest people in the country, man or woman. With her qualifications!—a politician down to the ground, position to burn, millions of money. And her antecedents!—Marc Hanna's daughter, a senator's widow. As governoress of Illinois!—there's a state that packs a poltical punch.

No wonder the feminists sit up and take political notice.

SKEPTICS CONVINCED OF REALITY OF 15-TON FISH

Exhibit of Deep Sea Creatures Opens Here for Stay of Four Days

Marion residents, skeptical of the reality of the 45-foot sea monster weighing 30,000 pounds, were convinced today when they visited the special railroad car housing Capt. Lin G. Green's Marine Exhibit, parked at Oak and Mills-sts, opposite the Central Junior high school.

The big fish almost fills the 75-foot car from floor to roof. The walls and ceiling of the car are literally covered with rare marine creatures, including the original P. T. Parnum mermaid figures, as first introduced 65 years ago by the veteran founder of the Barnum & Bailey Circus.

The exhibit will remain in Marion through Monday, moving to Lima for an engagement of three days.

Captain Greene has posted a forfeit of $1,000 for any one who can prove that the fish is not a real denizen of the deep. The record of its capture has been written into the Wonder Book of Knowledge.

MENDING HINT

When darning stockings thread three needles with yarn before starting. It is often awkward to lay down the work to thread another needle. When there is much darning this is a real help.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS SOURCE OF SMALLPOX

Officials Taking Every Precaution To Prevent Spread of Disease

Mystery continues to surround the source of the smallpox with which Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Erwin, Rose-av were taken ill Wednesday. No additional cases have been reported it was stated at the city health office this morning and an investigation made by Health Commissioner J. W. Weiser and Sanitary Officer Charles Tobin, has failed to reveal any possible source of the disease.

Dr. Weiser said this morning that the Erwins were as well as could be expected and that no signs of the disease has manifested itself in other members of the family, all of whom were vaccinated by the health commissioner on Wednesday.

One possible source of the disease, Dr. Weiser said, might be in that the Erwins were exposed from a mild case that had not been recognized as small pox. Every precaution is being taken to prevent a spread of the disease.

BAD LIQUOR CAUSE OF FRACAS AT FAIRGROUNDS

Bad liquor brought trouble to Walter Green, colored, when he was fined $10 and costs by Municipal Judge William J. Martin, upon his plea of guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct. Yesterday, according to Harry P. Peiffer, who filed the affidavit against Green, the colored man who is employed in the racing stables at the fairground, became "mad," according to police, and after hitting Peiffer on the head because he interferred when he picked on another employe, chased another employe around the stables with a piece of two by four.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO CHARGE OF NON-SUPPORT

Lunis Johnson, 29, was arrested late yesterday afternoon on an affidavit filed by Humane Officer James Ullom charging him with failure to contribute toward the support of his three minor children, the youngest being three weeks old and the oldest, seven years. Johnson pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge Martin in municipal court this morning and his hearing was set for Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

If Youth But Knew

BY ED. W. HOWE, Editor and Author

BEHAVE reasonably well and work reasonably hard and you will probably live to bury every genius you know of about your own age.

It will not hurt you to say prayers but it is better to work intelligently for what you pray for.

The pot of gold is not found at the end of the rainbow but at the end of a good day's work.

The best sermon in any book is that which warns us to prepare for a rainy day.

It has been frequently said life is a joke. If it is, the joke is on the thief. A thief never gets along as well as an honest man.

Every man has a weak side he should watch with particular care; his strong side will take care of itself.

A man who gets $50,000 a year gets four thousand of it for his work and the balance for his judgment.

A man can't half work and half play. He must either be a hard worker and a success or a poor worker and a failure.

I'll not combat selfishness. I'm selfish and never knew a man who wasn't.

A good scare is worth more to a man than good advice.

Feel ashamed of all your misdeeds; not only of those the people have found out.

I am in favor of humdrum peace and of learning things without violence.

The first business of everyone is to get along. If he does not after years of effort; there is something wrong with him, and usually he can correct the faults that make him a failure.

Seven out of ten men seem to think the way to get rich is to fool somebody, whereas men of real sense know the best way to get along is not to fool anybody.

The necessities of life are inexpensive; it is the extra frills that cost money.

Little jobs carefully tended have a habit of growing.

The saying, "O we all make mistakes" is often accepted as an excuse for too many.

The oftener you say "No," the better you'll get along.

As you become older, gradually accustom yourself to neglect.

Financial success is knowing that certain men will promise to do certain things, and fail.

A sour man may make a living but a polite man may make a fortune.

It is a good rule to watch everybody; the honest man may be careless.

I never knew a particularly good workman who didn't have a particularly good job.

If you expect to get rich, you must make money when times are dull.

Eight hours' work a day will not hurt any man; it's the eight hours' hum which follows at night that hurts.

If you achieve success you must pass the show man.

No man ever enjoyed the pure joys of living without having some sort of success to his credit. Of all games worth a candle, success is first.

The AVON

As advertised by Berkey & Gay in the Saturday Evening Post

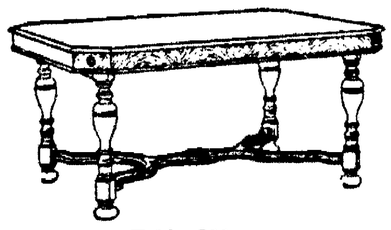
Compare the authentic style, correct design, careful workmanship, the rich beauty of the woods and finish, with the price we are asking.

Remember, each piece bears the cherished Shop Mark of Berkey & Gay — which is to furniture what Sterling is to silver.

Eight Pieces

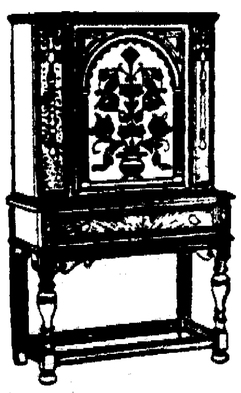
Sideboard, Extension Table, 1 Host's Arm Chair, and 5 Guest Chairs.

$303



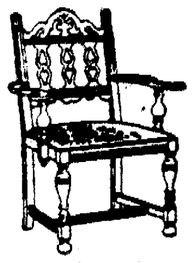
Extension Table $96

High-lighted turnery, quaint stretchers, octangular top, three hand-fitted leaves—two with aprons.



China Cabinet $84

Hand-painted decoration on the door, mellow antique finish, inclosed cupboard for linen, drawer for linens.



Host's Arm Chair $20

Rich colour upholstery, massively hospitable, distinctive in design.

Sideboard $122

Hand-carved panels, expertly matched woods, bold turnery, mahogany trays for silver and linens.

Serving Chest $36

Rich woods, reflected with the gloss of English oak, ample cupboards, drawers and for linens.

Guest Chairs, each $15

Smartly furniture, upholstered seats, straight chair with arms.

THE "Avon" possesses an individuality amongst today's furniture. It combines the ancient, romantic charm of England's Jacobean manner with the color, convenience and comfort demanded by modern America.

Carved panels for the sideboard, expertly hand-cut; an accent of color, contributed by the china cabinet—its door hand-painted in antique Chinese vermilion. Carving and colorful ornamentation only insinuate the "Avon's" decorative quality.

Robust, turned legs; sturdy, forthright stretchers; bold mouldings—all carry the atmosphere and dignity of antiquity. Likewise, the hand-mellowed wax finish which accents the beauty of the woods and gives the suite its lustrous, warm color tone.

SENATOR WILLIS IS CONVERT OF MYSTIC BAND

Statesman Assists Magicians in Presenting Convention Program

Kenton, June 10—United States Senator Frank B. Willis has become a convert to the magic arts it developed last night when the Ohio statesman attended the public performance of the International Borotherhood of Magicians in convention here, for the second straight night and was called upon to assist the headliners wtih their acts.

The senator evidenced greatest interest in the Hindu rope trick of Dr. Harlan Tarbell of Chicago, the countless mysteries of many feats in legerdemain performed by W. W. Durbin and the master illusions of Blackstone and admitted at the close of the show that he had learned everything in the way of tricks except how they do it.

Desire of Senator Willis to witness "Colonel Bill" Durbin, state politician, whom he has seen in action and has opposed politically, perform his feats in necromancy, prompted him to remain over for last night's performance.

Youthful Actress

A youthful actress, Margaret Durbin, 3, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. Francis Durbin, Lima, also came in for her share of laurels last night when she appeared upon the stage. She went through her lines like a veteran and received almost as big a "hand" as did her grandad.

It was Durbin's night under the big tent and more than 2,500 of his fellow townsmen and friends from over the state were on hand to acclaim his achievements in Black Magic which he has followed for many years as a hobby. He produced some clever illusions. For instance he had beautiful girls arise in a twinkling from an empty doll house and a trunk, and cages containing live birds to be lifted from a container that previously had been filled with rubber balls. Visible to the eye the balls passed to a glass container suspended from the ceiling.

RICHWOOD RESIDENCE IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

Richwood, June 10—Fire broke out at the home of George Robertson, S. Franklin-st at noon yesterday. The property is owned by Harry Hupp of Columbus, it was partly destroyed by fire and much damage done by water. The cause of the fire is not known.

FAUCET FREAK STREAM SOURCE

Kenton, June 10—Seeing is believing and that is why this is being told.

Though not booked on the convention programs of the International Brotherhood of Magicians' meeting here, but vieing in interest with the most intricate mystery of any magical illusion created by the past masters is the display in the show window of the T. C. Vanica Co. plumbing shop on South Detroit-st.

It consists simply of a common hydrant faucet, suspended from a tiny wire in mid-air, and a receptical. Yet a constant stream of water pours from the mouth of the faucet which has no visible connections whatever.

CHAIN OF 1700 LINKS DISPLAYED AT KENTON

Unique Record of Musicians' Brotherhood Membership Maintained

Kenton, June 10—One of the features of the International Brotherhood of Magicians in convention here is the metallic membership chain originated and constructed by Fred Hurd, Ft Wayne, Ind

Hurd, who 30 years ago was one of the big time professionals of legerdemain, conceived the idea of the linkong chain at the first annual convention of the magicians here last year.

For each member of the Brotherhood, the chain contains a name tag, the magician's stage name if he has one, and his membership number. Suspended from the name tag will be found smaller tags indicating whether or not he attended the 1926 convention and what offices he holds in the order.

The plan this year is to have each member attending the convention take his 1927 tag and attach it below his other tags indicating that he attended this year's conclave. Other tags for the newly elected 1927 officers will also be attached to the chain.

Already there are nearly 1700 tags on the chain, indicating the number of magicians who have sent in their memberships to the brotherhood. The chain is divided in sections of 100 tags to a section.

Galion, June 10—Following a serious illness of several months duration Adam Kilgore, 80, died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Fred D. Christman three miles northeast of Galion yesterday morning. For 20 years the family made their home here where Mr Kilgore was employed with several manufacturing companies. During the past two years the aged man and his wife have made their home with the daughter.

Besides his wife, Kilgore leaves two daughters, Mrs. Christman and Mrs. Levi Crim both of this community and two sons, Clark Kilgore, Greenwich; Delbert Kilgore, Seattle, Wash. Funeral services will be held from the home Sunday at two o'clock.

CHARLES H. BRADEN, 51, IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Resident of Iberia Community Dies After Short Illness

Iberia, June 10—Charles Howard Braden, son of the late William A. and Sarah Bartlett Braden, died at the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Homer B Braden, three miles southeast of Iberia, at 12:15 a. m. Thursday, after a few weeks illness.

Mr Braden spent the most of his life with his parents at the home near where he died. After the death of his mother, he made his home for four years with his brother, Ray F. Braden. Since then he had lived at various places, much of the time in and about Galion. When he was taken sick he went to the home of his brother, Homer. Mr. Braden was born Sept. 12, 1876 and was never married.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Frank Newbitt, of Mt. Gilead and three brothers, Homer B. and Ray F. of near Iberia and Ralph H. of Rochester, N. Y. Funeral services will be held at the home of his brother, Homer, Saturday at 2 p. m. Funeral Director L. J. Snyder of Galion will have charge and Dr. L. L. Fisher, pastor of the Iberia Methodist Episcopal Church, will officiate. Interment will be made in the Iberia cemetery.

GALION GIRL SCOUTS TO HOLD SUMMER CAMP

Members of Troop To Enjoy Annual Outing in July

Galion, June 10— Paralleling the work done by boy scout troops of the city, plans are forming for an active summer of girl scout work. Headlining the events of the coming months will be the week camping trip which will take place during the second week of July and will be the second annual affair of its kind.

Miss Dorothy Lore, captain of the local outfit and Miss Martha Ranzdell, first lieutenant are arranging the schedule of camp activities and the courses which will be offered. Classes will be held daily in nature study, handicraft first aid and general scouting with swimming lessons and athletic work also offered. An assisting corps of instructors will accompany the campers although the entire list has not yet been made. All supervisors to be chosen will be experts in their line of work and especially fitted and experienced as scout directors.

The camp will be conducted in approved military style with regular tent and equipment inspections, flag raisings and outlined courses in preparation for scout tests. Campfire sessions will be held each night and groups of students of the proposed class in dramatics will present short programs assisted by folk dancing and music groups.

Registration for the camp is now taking place and at least 28 girls are expected.

Miss Christina Gibbons played a violin solo accompanied by her sister, Anda. Clayton Jones sang two solos, "Because" and "At Dawning."

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis left immediately for their home at 238 Central-av, Delaware.

MUSIC COMMENCEMENT SCHEDULED AT GALION

High School Fine Arts Pupils To Be Presented June 30

Galion, June 10—The annual commencement recital of pupils of the Fine Arts course of Galion high school will be given June 20 at the school auditorium. At this time, instructors in the various departments of special work will present their graduate pupils in the closing program of a successful year.

Miss Bessie Todd, prominent piano instructor and promoter of the commencement recital plan, is taking charge of the affair. Two of her graduate pupils, Pauline Young and Kenneth Rensch will contribute feature numbers to the program and will each play several solo numbers, two piano and organ and piano selections. Several of Miss Todd's Crestline pupils are also scheduled to appear.

Mrs. Beck, expression teacher, and Mrs. W. W. Koppe, vocal supervisor, will have assisting pupils take part and the recital as always will attract wide attention.

Under the credit plan for musical and dramatic work one of the requirements is participation in a graduation program and grades given accordingly to the performance. Because of the many activities crowding commencement week, the recital was postponed until later in the season.

$510,000 IS LARGEST BID FOR STEEL PLANTS

Result of Hadfield-Penfield Co. Sale Is Still in Doubt

Bucyrus, June 10—Bid of $510,000 for the Mansfield, Willoughby and Bucyrus plants of the Hadfield-Penfield Steel Co., submitted late Thursday for M. O. Garner by Morgan Dean Joyce, New York, and lesser bids, today was being forwarded to the federal court at Cleveland.

The bid represents approximately one-fifth of the appraised value of the plants, and one-third of the government's claim which resulted in the present receivership action.

As the sale was underwritten by the National Surety Co., it is expected that the court will accept the bid, especially as Joyce is the son of the general manager of the Surety company.

Highest individual bid on the Mansfield plant was $75,000 against a valuation of $172,000; on the Willoughby plant, $60,000 on an approximate valuation of $103,000, and on the Bucyrus plant, $350,000 on a valuation of $1,077,000.

W. A. Riddel receiver of the company is an officer and stockholder in the National Surety Co.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION IS GRANTED GALION MAN

Court Action Restrains County Treasurer from Collecting Street Assessments

Bucyrus, June 10—A temporary injunction was granted R. J. Moorman of Galion Wednesday by Judge J. W. Wright restraining County Treasurer F. O. McKeehen from collecting the tax assessed against four Galion lots belonging to Moorman. Moorman claims that the lots were assessed an illegal and exorbitant amount by a Galion ordinance of the Galion city council passed May 6, 1924, "for the improvement of E. Parsons-st, and he, through his attorney, Dean Talbot, asks for a permanent injunction. The lots in question are inlots 1079, 1080, 1081 and 1082, of the city of Galion. The value of the lots were assessed at $232, $237, $237 and $205 respectively.

GIRLHOOD TO MOTHERHOOD

Iowa Woman Found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Always Helpful

Vinton, Iowa.—"When I was seventeen years old I had to stay at home from school. I finally had to quit school, I was so weak. I suffered for about two years before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, then I picked up one of your books and read it. I began taking the medicine. Now I am a housekeeper with six children, and I have taken it before each one was born. I cannot tell you all the good I have received from it. When I am not as well as can be I take it. I have been doing this for over thirteen years and it always helps me. I read all of your little books I can get and I tell everyone I know what the Vegetable Compound does for me."—Mrs. Frank Sellers, 510 7th Avenue, Vinton, Iowa.

Many girls in the fourth generation are learning thru their own personal experiences the beneficial effects of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mothers who took it recommend it to their daughters as a dependable medicine.

RED STAR OIL STOVE

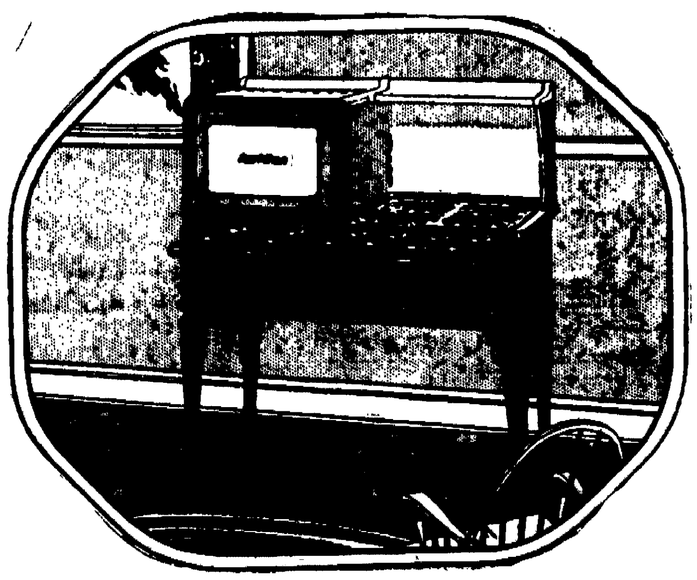
Allowance For Your Old Oil Stove



The housewives of Marion have wasted no time in attending this demonstration. They have marveled at what this beautiful modern stove will do. They have seen it turn common kerosene oil into gas. Gives gas speed, gas convenience, gas stove cooking results. But tomorrow is the last day. Be sure to come before 6 p. m.—our closing time.

A SMALL DOWN PAYMENT

Come to our store. Convince yourself that this is the kind of stove you have always wanted to own. And for a small payment down you can have this wonderful stove in your home—if you will take advantage of our special Demonstration Week Offer. Before closing time Saturday night.

"Lively Heat"
The Modern Cooking Sensation

Red Star engineers found a way to produce "Lively Heat" in an oil stove. The Red Star "Lively Heat" Burner converts common kerosene or gasoline into a gaseous vapor, which is then burned and produces the same "Lively Heat" as coal, gas, or electricity. Naturally, there are no wicks or wick substitutes.

Until you have seen foods that have been cooked by a Red Star you will not begin to realize what a tremendous difference "Lively Heat" makes in cooking results.

Five Regulars of Marion Athletics Hitting Above 300 Mark; Other Averages

RIZOR LEADING CLUB; REESE IS SECOND IN LINE

Bacon and Rowan Below Usual Average This Season

FIVE regulars of the Marion Athletics are hitting above the .300 mark, three are below that point, and the team as a whole is batting at an average of .276

That's what the statistics for the first five games showed today in the first check-up of the season.

Rizor at shortstop, is leading the Athletics with the stick. Out of 18 times at bat he has collected seven hits for an average of .388. Rizor has played in every game this season. Reese, who has taken part in two games and a half, with eight times at bat, has a record of .375 for second place, while Buckland is hitting 368.

Three Under

The three players below the .300 mark are Bacon, Rowan, and Main. Both Bacon and Rowan are batting below their usual averages, the former having .285 and Rowan being credited with .208. Main has received only two hits out of 16 times at bat for an average of 125.

Bersinger, before being released, was hitting .225 and Harn's record was one hit out of 12 times at bat, or .083.

Price and Conroy are tied with .333 in fourth place in the hitting list.

Marion has scored a total of 34 runs against a total off 19 for their opponents this season and have been credited with a grand total of 49 hits in the first five games while opponents have received only 34 bingles

Errors Galore

But a comparison of errors does not listen so well. Marion has been chalked up with a total of 24 errors so far this season, or an average of almost five a game. Opponents have totaled only 13, half that number.

Marion was going hot in its batting until last week, when it was held to six hits. A check-up shows that the locals had a hitting average of .181 in that fatal tilt, while the Elyria Rickwines batted .270.

Both Rowan and Bacon have scored more runs than hits. Rowan has made only five hits and six runs while Bacon has made four hits and five runs. In one game, Bacon came to bat five times but was never credited with a "times at bat" when he was walked three times, made a sacrifice hit, and was struck with the ball on the other trip to the plate.

Conroy Going Good

Joe Conroy has staged a marvelous come back with the stick during the last three games. Joe was unable to connect in the first two games and was not credited with a hit out of eight times to bat. But now he is among the leaders with an average of .333. He has batted over .500 during the last three contests.

Taylor, right fielder who was released a week ago, had an average of .455 for three games.

A survey of the pitching shows that Main has struck out 35 men, or an average of seven players a game. He has walked seven so far this season. Reese has pitched two innings and struck out two men. He has allowed one base on balls.

Here's the batting average of the regulars with the local club after the first five games:

Player	AB.	R.	H.	Pct.
Rizor	18	3	7	.388
Reese	8	1	3	.375
Buckland	19	5	7	.368
Conroy	21	3	7	.333
Price	21	4	7	.333
Bacon	14	5	4	.285
Rowan	19	6	5	.208
Main	16	4	2	.125

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE TIE TO BE BROKEN

Four-Way Deadlock Will End with Games Tonight

With four teams in a deadlock for first place in the Commercial League, games tonight have awakened the interest of all recreational ball fans of the city and large crowds are expected to be on hand for all the tilts.

After the games tonight, only three teams can possibly be tied for first place. Two of the leaders, the Steam Shovel Office and Marion Stars will fight it out on the Steam Shovel diamond. The loser will drop into second place.

Kappa Alpha Phis are duped to remain at the head of the class. They meet the K. of P. team at Central Junior High and should have little trouble in downing the Pythians. The Phighs then are expected to stay at the top. They meet the Elkmen at Fair field tonight.

The Zebras will play the Pennsies at Electric Park and the winners will have little trouble in [illegible]

Yankees and Giants Again Win; Indians Cop Another

NEW YORK, June 10— While the Yankees are making a runaway of the American League race, the National League scramble is a bit brighter today as a result of Pittsburgh's two successive defeats by the rejuvenated Giants. New York, in fourth place, is only four and one half games behind the leaders.

The Pirates sent old Joe Bush in against the Giants yesterday and the execution was terrible. Joe served up his fork ball and the Giants forked it all over the lot, winning 12 to 1 behind Fitzsimmon's airtight twirling. Tex Jeanes was given a shot at the left field job and made three hits.

Yanks Win

The Yankees stretched their lead to four games and crushed the pennant hopes of the White Sox by whipping them for the third time in a row, 8 to 3. A six-run rally in the sixth, during which Babe Ruth stole home and Moreshart hit a freak homer with two on, sent Ted Blankenship to the showers.

The Cubs nosed out Brooklyn, 4 to 3, and advanced to within three and one-half games of Pittsburgh. The Robins haven't won a game from the Cubs all season

Walter Johnson failed again as Uhle of Cleveland held the Senators to five hits and won 7 to 1 The Indians jumped to fifth place.

The Athletics won their fourth straight game, trouncing St. Louis 9 to 3. Every man on the A's got at least one hit, Dykes collecting four

A four-run rally in the ninth staked Detroit to a 6 to 4 victory over the Red Sox when all seemed lost save honor and $130.75 in gate receipts.

The Cardinals held on to third place by administering a proper trimming to the Braves, 6 to 1 Jess Haines had the Braves feeding out of his glove throughout

Major League Trading Dead Line Goes Into Effect In Five Days; Few Exchanges

Walsh Cites John McGraw's Sad Case; Rumors of Various Deals Pending; Lots of Talk Heard, but Little Action Seen

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, June 10 If the boys plan to better their lands—and it is expected that some of them wouldn't object with great firmness—they will have to start dealing them out of the cuff within the next five days For on June 15 the major league trading dead line goes into effect and after that you couldn't trade Nick Altrock for George H Ruth even if Clark Griffith waived his natural prejudice like a good sportsman

The Carlson-Cooney-Kauffman deal of the Phillies and Cubs is the only midseason trade to be closed to date but there is backstairs gossip to the effect that a lot of the boys are in there trying

They say the Boston Braves have decided to obtain a legal separation from Dave Bancroft their player-manager, and are inclined to offer him for what he might be worth, which is plenty. Bancroft may have been unable to make the Braves win in four years but he still is quite a shortstop and would make a great man for an outfit like the Cubs He isn't hitting

Traffic Regulation Plans Will Sag at Kenton

Kenton, June 10—Because of the lack of sufficient funds, the finance committee of city council, in a written report declared that it would not be possible to appropriate funds to the city safety department at the present time, to help defray the cost of installing three traffic lights in the uptown district as proposed three weeks ago.

Investigation of the city auditor's books, the committee said, show only normal balance in each fund with seven months of the year yet to be taken care of.

Chamber of Commerce History Told at Kiwanis Luncheon

Mt. Gilead, June 10—N. R. Wildman, district circulation manager of "The Nation's Business," an official publication of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker at the weekly Kiwanis luncheon held in the Morrow Room of the Globe Hotel yesterday. In his address, he told of the history of the Chamber of Commerce, its present status, and its future ambitions.

Sixteen years ago, President Taft called 500 business men together to consider important questions, especially taxation. At this time, the meeting was one of the largest ever attempted by business men.

The chamber of commerce originated 15 years ago with one man and a girl secretary in a small office at Washington, D. C. Now it has a membership of over 1,000,000.

Rev. Paul R. Clouser delivered a memorial address.

Ten Pythian sisters conducted their memorial service.

CURIOUS THRONG FLOCKS TO FIRE SCENE AT GALION

Guard Rail Erected and Guards Placed About Danger Zone

Galion, June 10—Throngs of curious spectators, throughout yesterday formed an almost endless procession which viewed the smouldering debris marking the spot where the Metallic Grave Vault Co. notable Galion industrial plant, had its home before the fire of early Thursday totally destroyed buildings and equipment. Thousands of Galionites visited the scene of destruction during the day and many persons from surrounding towns motored here for a glimpse of the ruined structure.

Early in the day a guard rail completely surrounding the building was put up and employes of the company stationed as guards to prevent onlookers from wandering into the danger zone. During the day fire broke out in several places but was easily controlled by workers.

Electricians of the City Light plant under direction of Supt. Geiger worked steadily to repair damages done to power lines and light wires. Although a large force were on duty constantly complete adjustment could not be made and streets in North and East sections of the city were in darkness last night. An estimated loss of $500 is sustained by the city according to light plant officials, due to the burning of many meters.

Creature which has baffled scientific authorities was captured after a thirty-nine hour battle by Capt. Chas. H. Thompson off Knight's Key. Five harpoon thrusts and 151 large calibre rifle bullets only served to increase the fury of the monster, and, at open sea, it dragged a small boat containing three men at express-train speed for hundreds of miles.

The creature is not classified in natural history, but it is the largest specimen of the fish tribe ever seen or captured. It is neither whale nor shark. Scientific authorities believe the creature was an inhabitant of depths of more than 1,500 feet under surface of the ocean and was blown up by some subterranean or volcanic upheaval which injured its diving apparatus so that it was unable to return to its native haunts.

and Levine Made ary Citizens at City Hall

10—Thousands lined the nter Den Linden today ociferously as Clarence Charles A. Levine rode United States Ambassa- to the city hall, where were made honorary cit-shone down on the fliers ion they received from as enthusiastic as any ce their arrival here. s received the fliers at the city hall and offered them an official welcome. He paid them high tribute for their feat in establishing a new long distance flight, and then presented them with medals from the city of Berlin commemorating the event.

Sign Golden Book

Both fliers were then called upon to sign the golden book, adding their names to a long list of names which rank high in history.

Berlin is not unmindful of the honor extended Dr. Eckener when he arrived in New York, having flown the dirigible Los Angeles across the ocean, and today's ceremonies were partially as a return of this compliment, but chiefly an enthusiastic effort to demonstrate just how Berlin admires these pioneers of the air.

The enthusiasm for the two fliers does not seem to recede, and Berlin, which is naturally an unemotional city has been marked with continued displays and demonstrations that have not been equalled since the war days.

So great is the enthusiasm for the flying men that Berlin refuses to permit them to even change their clothes, and everywhere they go it is insisted that they appear in the flying togs which they wore across the Atlantic. This despite the fact that both men have consulted tailors and are now quite prepared to appear properly dressed for all occasions.

Burdened with Gifts

In addition to the thousands of words of spoken and written praise, both Chamberlin and Levine are burdened down with material indications of Germany's admiration of them, for it seems that almost everyone in Germany has sent some gift to the American Embassy for the two fliers.

Chamberlin, however, has been given a unique honor. A brand of Bohemian beer has been named for him, which seems to make it almost certain that his name will be known in Germany long after he has departed and perhaps after greater feats have been accomplished.

For Chamberlin the Berlin visit will take on its greatest interest tomorrow, after the social functions climaxing in a great dance given by the Americans in Germany end tonight. Tomorrow Chamberlin will return to his own world—the world of aviation. He will be under the guidance of the officials of Lufthansa, the greatest commercial airway transportation company in the world and all of the workings of this rather complicated institution will be demonstrated to the flier. Chamberlin, who is perhaps more of an engineer than a pilot, is greatly interested in the problem of commercial flying and he hopes that he may be able to learn many things from Lufthansa which will stand him in good stead when and if he returns to his own business at Teterboro, N. J.

All Kinds of Offers

Cabled offers of every description continue to pour in upon both Chamberlin and Levine, but it now seems definitely settled that only those offers which have to do with aviation will get any consideration from them.

The future route of the fliers after they leave Berlin is not definitely settled, although they expect to visit Vienna, Munich and Prague. Chamberlin is anxious to go to Rome to meet Premier Mussolini and to study Italian aviation, and perhaps pay small tribute to the nation which gave birth to Giuseppe Bellanca, builder of the plane which Chamberlin flew across the ocean.

There is no use in wishing one had his youth again, if he has to give up the wisdom he has gained.

Gas in the Stomach Is Truly Dangerous

Gas, Pain, Bloating and a feeling of fullness after eating are almost certain evidence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach.

Too much acid irritates the delicate stomach lining, frequently causing chronic Gastritis and dangerous Ulcers. Food ferments and sours, forming a gas that distends the stomach and often seriously affects the Heart.

It is genuine folly to neglect such a condition or to treat with artificial digestive aids that cannot neutralize the stomach acid. A better way is to get from your druggist a few tiny tablets of Bisurated Magnesia and take three or four of them after each meal. This famous but simple and inexpensive stomach sweetener and anti-acid can be depended upon to prove its value in less than five minutes. In most instances, relief comes instantly! Pleasant and perfectly harmless to use—Bisurated Magnesia tablets do give wonderful relief in nine out of ten cases. Ask your Doctor or Druggist.—Adv.

138 Boys and Girls Here Awaiting Proffers from Friends to Share Outings

List of Children in Need of Relief from City Heat and Dust Prepared by School Teachers at Direction of Superintendent

Eighty-five boys and 53 girls who are facing a long summer vacation in the heat and dust of the city, but whose physical condition calls for cool restful shade, are waiting with anxious eyes, to see how many of the more fortunate in the city, are going to share their vacations with them.

List prepared by the teachers in the

These boys and girls, taken from a schools under the supervision of Supt. Jesse H. Mason before his departure for Europe, are in need of cool breezes and the quiet rest as can only be offered by such places as Camp Robert Usher, the Y. M. C. A. camp at Hepburn.

Need Outing

These 85 boys and 53 girls need this camp this summmer and will have it, if only enough of the more fortunate will be willing to share with them only a small part of their vacation. This is not charity, the parents of each of these children, while unable to pay the full amount of $10.00 required for each child, will pay a little something, all that is in their power to pay.

It is now up to those who want to add much joy to their vacation this summer by helping to give each of the children, ten days of a real vacation spent along the cool lake and amid the shady trees of the camp, to come forth with a contribution.

Members of the Rotary Club, the first to come forward with help, have contributed more than $65 it was reported today by James R. Smith, chairman of the Boys Work committee of the club. Other members of the club have offered to pay half the cost of sending children of their employes.

Twenty enrollments for the first group which will go to camp on June 21, have been received at the Y. M. C. A. it as announced today by Secretary M. L. Verburg. Because of the fact that not more than 50 can be accommodated in any one group, it is urged by the secretary that any desiring to send boys and girls with this group get in touch with some member of the camp committee as soon as possible.

Camp Committee

Anyone wishing to contribute to this very much worth while cause should make their checks payable to any of the following members of the camp committee or to the Y. M. C. A. camp: E. K. Usher, E. J. Schoenlaub, Charles H. Baily, Morgan Burke, D. J. Shelton, or John J. Stafford chairman of the boys' work committee of the Y. M. C. A. work committee of the Y. M. C. A.

Work of getting the camp in shape for the opening June 21, has been going rapidly forward and it is expected all will be ready when the first contingent arrives on that date.

Many improvements such as a cinder track, swings, merry-go-rounds and slides into the water will greet the first group of boys. A new diving dock with the present dock anchored in the middle of the lake and a boat dock just east of the present one, will also be new features at the camp this summer.

-o- The New Book -o-

BY FRANCES JENNINGS

DESTINED to remain looming in the horizon of fame is Michael Arlen, the popular English novelist, whose new book, "Young Men in Love", just published, is being devoured by a sensation-loving populace both here and in his native England. Arlen is another author of the type that "writes for the many," his novels, entertaining, sensational, and light, all heading the list of best-sellers for several weeks after publication and then are discarded by that same thrill loving reading public for a new sensation.

Arlen writes with the power of a Galsworthy or Walpole but with total indifference as to convention or beauty. His characters, all powerfully drawn and realistic enough to be interesting, are never pleasing and of a calibre soon to be, and happily, forgotten. His women are inevitably sensual, his men conceited, successful Englishmen, happily enhanced by the charms of an adoring young mistress. Arlen doesn't fail to see the worthwhile in life—he ignores it.

The life of Venetia, the beautiful heroine of "Young Men in Love," he follows from childhood, allowing one to become fond of her and then discloses that she, too, is as sinful, as many of the other characters of the book. Arlen gives a perfect summary of the life of his Venetia in these words: "Venetia's life may be divided into four parts. For her first five years she fell through life. For her next five years she ran, skipped and fell through life. For the next five years she played, wondered, screamed, giggled and fell through life. For the next five she did what she ought not to have done. Then, she had time to sit and wonder.

Vardon, her father, in whose wilful footsteps she followed, was the type of man who had, "by every word and action of his life let it be clearly understood that he does not aspire to a better one."

Savile, the novelist, whom Arlen calls "the only young writer left in England who worships women" is perhaps the one good character in the book and that merely because his weaknesses tend to other channels

Arlen has shown the world what he is capable of doing—of producing a book that is thorough entertaining, enlivened with realistic, human, but not to virtuous characters. Had he chosen to emphasize the virtue rather than the evil of his characters, brought out, wise and then the worth in life rather than dwelling upon the sin, his book might retained its ill-gained popularity.

Arlen's other much-talked-of books are "The Green Hat," a recent publication, "These Charming People," and "Mayfair" all brilliantly and cleverly written in his original and engaging style.

SUMMER READING; HERE ARE BOOKS

With the coming of summer and vacations comes the thought "What Shall I Take with Me To Read?" Authors, this year have been annually obliging in furnishing summer reading material, or so it would seem after a perusal of such new novels as "Twilight Sleep," Edith Wharton, a glittering novel of present-day Manhattan life, or "The Old Countess," Anne Douglas Sedgwick, a delightful romance of "another little French girl."

An historical romance, rich in adventure and gripping crises, is "The Drums of Aulone" by Robert W. Chambers, with swift changing scenes and action from the France of Louis XIV, in all its splendor, to England during the reign of James.

Two stirring tales of the sea, with hair raising adventure and South Sea Island romances are "A Checkerboard," by Robert Clay, and "The Wreck of the Redwing," by Beatrice Grimshaw.

For the lover of mystery is "The Golden Centipede," a story of barbaric Africa by Louise Gerard or "The Amazing Chance," the latter an unusual novel in which two cousins of the same age and as alike as twins are in love with the same girl. She marries one and both are called to war and reported missing. Years later when one returns, shell-shocked and himself incapable of determining which one he is, it is up to the girl to solve the mystery.

For more serious and profitable reading is the new biography of George Eliot, called "George Eliot and Her Times" or "A Victorian Study" by Elizabeth S. Haldane, telling not only Eliot's experiences in the literary world but the intimate story of her life and three great loves.

Two new novels of English setting, recently published, are "Lois" by Laurence W. Mevnell, a brilliant novel of English political life, and "The Four Post Bed" by Charles Fielding Marsh, laid in the Norfolk countryside.

"John Nixon" is the title of a new book by Grace Livingston Hill, a popular writer of light and entertaining novels

A distinguished novel of the modern industrial world is "Bernard Quesnay," by Andre Maurois, the author of "Ariel" Mrs Newdigate's Window" by C Lenanton is an attractive little story of the older and younger generations of England.

TWO BOOKS HEAD "BEST SELLERS"

"Twilight Sleep" by Edith Wharton and "Marching On" by James Boyd, head the list of best selling fiction this week. Other best sellers follow in order of their popularity, "Young Men in Love" by Michael Arlen, "Aw Hell" by Clarke Venable, which this week makes its debut with best selling novels, "The Immortal Marriage" by Gertrude Atherton, and "Brother Saul" by Donn Byrne.

"The Glorious Adventure" by Richard Hallihurton, "Revolt in the Desert" by T. E. Lawrence and "Napoleon" by Emil Ludwig are the best sellers of the nonfiction class.

SAVE STALE BREAD

Do not allow crusts or small pieces of bread to accumulate in the bread box. Keep them in a separate bag or box. Dry and put them through a meat grinder. Sift the crumbs through the grinder the second time. Keep them in a glass jar with a piece of clean cheese cloth tied over the top. Use as needed.

EASILY HANDLED

When taking toast, or any crisp article of food, to an invalid, first cut it into strips. This will avoid a shower of crumbs over the bed and it looks more dainty and appetizing.

Coolidge Scheduled

WILL SPEAK SATURDAY NIGHT

for Address on Radio

Proceedings of the semi-annual meeting of the Bureau of the Budget direct from the Continental Memorial Hotel, Washington, D. C., featuring addresses by President Calvin Coolidge and Gen. H. M. Lord, director of the budget, will be broadcast at 9 o'clock, Saturday night, through WEAF, New York, and associated stations of the red and blue networks.

The program will begin with a half-hour concert by the famous United States Army band. At 9:30, the voice of the nation's chief executive will be heard. In his address the president will point out the accomplishments of the Bureau of the Budget and the importance of its work in the economic conditions of the nation. Following the president's address, General Lord will be heard in the semi-annual report.

The Texas Musicians' Association Convention will be heard over WBAP, Ft. Worth, beginning at 9 o'clock, Saturday night.

A special program, designed to reach Japan, will come on the air at 3 o'clock, from KJR, Seattle.

Mme. Julian Claussen, opera star, will be heard in a program from WPG, Atlantic City, starting at 8:15, Sunday night.

The baseball game between the Cubs and Giants will be heard through WMAQ, Chicago, at 3 o'clock, Sunday afternoon. The Toledo-Milwaukee game will be broadcast through WHAD, Milwaukee, at the same hour.

LESS FREIGHT BEING MOVED ON RAILROADS

Decrease Due to Heavy Movement of Export Coal to England, Claim

The total movement of revenue freight for the 52 weeks of 1927 is estimated by the Car Service Division of the American Railway Association at 52,762,737 carloads. This will be a decrease of almost 600,000 cars in comparison with the movement in 1926.

This information has been received in local railway offices in bulletin form.

The decrease, according to the car division, is due principally to the heavy movement of export coal to England in 1926 and the curtailed output of bituminous coal in 1927 due to large stocks on hand on April 1 in anticipation of stoppage of mining in union fields. In making this estimation no consideration has been given to the possible effects of the Mississippi River flood on the total car loadings for the year.

Demands for open top cars for the handling of steel, sand, stone, and gravel will be as heavy at least as 1926 and in all probability will be slightly heavier. No difficulty is anticipated in handling the 1927 open top car requirements. There has been an ample supply of refrigerator cars at all time, the report concludes.

Traffic through Marion has been almost as heavy as in 1926 so far this season, it is estimated by local officials. There was a slight decrease for a short time during the forepart of April as the coal strike took effect in southern Ohio but otherwise traffic has been normal.

Reports False

Reports of a Hocking Valley excursion to Toledo and Detroit Sunday are false, it was stated today. The next excursion to Detroit will be held Saturday night and Sunday, June 18 and 19.

Deep Sea Exhibit

The special car bearing the deep sea animal exhibit arrived in Marion late last night over the Erie Railroad and were stationed at the N. Main-st crossing. The exhibition will be held for four days.

To Attend Meeting

A number of local engineers are planning to attend the Brotherhood of Locomitive Enginer convention at Cleveland over the week-end.

First Excursion

In answer to numerous questions being asked about Erie excursions during the summer, it has again been announced that the first New York excursion of 16-day limit will be held July 7. None have yet been named on the Big Four. Cedar Point excursions also have not been started.

A Tip for Hot Water Drinkers

Hot water in the morning is fine for everyone—a good stride in the right direction. BUT if you want to get the most out of this health habit try dropping two tiny tablets of Kruschen Salts in your cup every day. It won't take any more than a few days to show you the amazing difference.

This little daily dose of Kruschen is like a charge of new ambition, new energy that is sent following through your veins to every tissue, muscle and cell.

But there's no mystery about Kruschen—it keeps you in perfect trim because it stimulates the liver and kidneys gently but surely to thorough performance of their duties. It frees your system of all waste matter that collects to clog your inside and poison your blood stream. It primes every fibre of your being with tingling vitality.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts today—It's not a cathartic—just the best system regulator in the world. Add two tablets to your hot water—coffee or tea—tomorrow morning and if at the end of the week you are not a confirmed member of the happy Kruschen family numbering millions the world over we'll lose our bet. Only 60c for 60 tablets at Bradley's Drug Store or live druggists everywhere. "It's the little daily dose that does it."—Adv.

SAFETY FIRST

It is easier to take care of the teeth and prevent decay and pyorrhea than to neglect them and eventually have trouble and finally lose them.

A Dr. West tooth brush and a tube of good tooth paste will go a long way to prevent them.

A holder free with every brush.

This digging and wriggling your way through a narrow tunnel may be all right for a chap of your shape, but for me it is no fun. I am used to moving my arms as well as my legs, and turning around and sitting down when I want to. Now everything but my feet are getting cramped. I never was so uncomfortable in all my life!"

"It is not my fault, you know," grumbled the Mole. "I must say, after all the trouble I am taking to make the tunnel higher and wider—and just on purpose for you, for I could wiggle my way through a much smaller one—you are not a bit grateful. Nobody forced you to come underground, you know. Why didn't you think of all this before you started?"

"Because I had no idea what it would be like!" said the Boy. "And I really am glad to find out. Don't mind me, Matty. I did forget my manners for a minute, but I will not again. But when will we come to the broad highway?"

"We are there now," declared Matty, and at these words he suddenly dropped out of sight.

KLEINMAIERS COMPLETING 45 YEARS IN CITY

Store Established Here in 1882 Under Same Management To Celebrate Anniversary

An indication of the growth and progress of Marion within one generation is found in the store of Kleinmaier Brothers, Center and Prospect-sts, which is just completing 45 years of service. At present this is the oldest store in Marion directed by its founders.

The average citizen of Marion little realizes the changes that have taken place here since this store was started. S. G. Kleinmaier, who with his brother, B. E. Kleinmaier, cast lots with Marion nearly a half century ago, relates a very interesting story of city progress. As a merchant he has been actively interest in all improvements.

At the time this store was started in Marion this city had a population of not more than 5,000. None of the streets were paved. The sidewalks were made of planks. There was not a single home east of Sargent-st. except an occasional farm house, all of that section now studded with homes being covered with trees. There were no stores on Center-st beyond the first alley west of Main-st, Mr. Kleinmaier recalls.

The old courthouse, a small brick structure, stood on the site of the present one with the traditional town pump and watering trough.

Interesting Episode

An interesting episode of the early days arose from an argument between J. H. Lindsey, local wagon maker, and J. R. Harshberger, hardware dealer who was agent for the Jackson wagon. Both claimed a superior product. The two wagons were put to a test, both being filled with pig iron and pulled through the street. The Jackson wagon collapsed under the load.

In the days when this store first started and for several years thereafter Prospect-st was known as West-st, State as East-st, Church as South-st, Mill as North-st and Columbia as Canal-st. Columbia-st got this name from the fact that an open ditch ran along its side. This was called Goose Creek. There were small wooden bridges across the stream at every street.

Marion, then as now, surpassed the neighboring towns in many way. The baseball team, the Marion Mohawks, was considered the best team in this section of the state. Among the members of this team were Yac Kellar, Will Lucas, Sam Fulton, Billy Dee, "Dummy" Ryan and "Bill" Scofield. In later years when bicycle racing was one of the leading sports such men as Guy C. Stolts, known then as "the boy wonder," Tracy Allen, Newton Davis and Claude Doty were the leaders.

Winning Fire Team

The Marion Stars of which Jim Bryant, James Knapp and George Meily were members was a winning fire team. The Huber Band, considered the best in Central Ohio, was led by Charles Mader, famous as a triple-tongued cornet player. Among the band members were the late President Warren G. Harding, Joseph Matthews, Edward Clark, George Meily, S. E. Barlow and Rollie Shute.

Kleinmaier Brothers started business in Marion in 1882 in the room on the corner of Center and Main-sts now occupied by the Schulte Cigar Store. Five years later the business was moved to the room now occupied by the Fred Sauer grocery where it remained 10 years. From there the store was moved to the Bennett Block, now occupied by the Marion County Bank, where it remained for 12 years. The final move into the present quarters was made in 1908, where three floors and the basement are occupied by the concern.

In celebration of its 45 years of service officials of the store have planned an anniversary sale which will open tomorrow and continue for two weeks. The store has been especially nollLPk wzascul Kul, ffga cmfwyp cm decorated for the occasion.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT
LEAGUE TRADING
STARTS ON PAGE 15

Luque or Carl Mays but the immediate silence was almost deafening. McGraw's real need, as a matter of fact, is major league catcher and he may try to swing a deal with the Dodgers for Charley Hargreaves, he could look further and do worse, in fact, he has done that already, to his subsequent regret.

The Giants have won their last two and may like themselves a little better but even a confirmed optimist would know that they are going nowhere very fast with the kind of catching they have been getting.

Speaking of the Dodgers brings to mind the fact that they have talked more trades and made less of them this year than any other club in baseball. They think they are going to get either Sand or Cooney from the Phillies for a pitcher and maybe they will. The Phils need pitchers, among several thousand other things, and the Dodgers need a shortstop who will guarantee to get a hit at least every other day. They also have talked up a straight trade of Buzz McWeeney for Jake May, of the Reds. But maybe Cincinnati is a little hard of hearing.

It was said, and subsequently denied by George Moriarty, that the Detroit Tigers were trying to make a trade for Harry Heilmann. Later, the Tigers were involved in a rumor with the Athletics but, if there ever was anything to it, the thing probably is off now. The Athletics finally are winning and, when you get that way, you lose all interest in your neighbor's chattels.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

Home grown strawberries were more plentiful on the market this morning and were being quoted at 25 cents, a drop of five cents over the price of yesterday. The warm sun of the past two days has resulted in a more rapid ripening of the fruit. The berries are of a good quality.

Pineapple for canning, having reached its peak early this week, is becoming scarcer, although prices are being quoted at from $1.25 to $2.75 per dozen. California cherries at 60 cents are still supplying the local markets. There also is a steady demand for watermelons at 75 cents a half. Grapefruit are being offered at 10 cents or two for 25 cents.

Green vegetables continue to be scarce with prices unchanged. Hopes of continued warm weather as a means of increasing the supply of green vegetables, are being held by local dealers. Green peas are selling at 20 cents, new potatoes at 4 pounds for 32 cents, and green beans at 15 cents. Yellow wax beans have disappeared from the market. Radishes, spinach, onions and carrots, supplying the markets from local farms, are plentiful.

Retail meat prices remain firm with a good demand, local dealers report.

MODERATE HOG SUPPLY TODAY SHOVES UP PRICE

Chicago, June 10—A moderate supply of hogs was largely responsible for an advance of 10 to 15 cents in the general market over Thursday's average values. Top for light weights reached $9.25 with the best heavy at $9. Receipts were much lighter than a week ago at all the western markets.

A small cattle supply was soon bought up at steady prices. Quality was plain with nothing good offered. Cows and heifers sold steady to strong. Bulls were quoted steady and calves unchanged. Demand was fairly strong for desirable feeders.

Lambs were quoted steady to strong.

REACTIONARY WORKERS THWARTED ON EXCHANGE

Market Stages Impressive Rally in Third and Fourth Hours

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

Railroad stocks irregular; industrials irregular; domestic bonds dull; foreign bonds reactionary; call money 4 1-4 per cent; grain strong; copper irregular; oil irregular; cotton strong; rubber irregular; sugar steady; pig iron steady; foreign exchange steady.

New York, June 10—Offerings of both the railroad and industrial stocks were so well absorbed in the market today that the reactionary price movement, which appeared to be gaining momentum in the forenoon, was effectually arrested, and the market staged an impressive rally in the third and fourth hours.

Bearish traders who had apparently found new capital in the announced intention of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to sell new stock at 107½; in the $30,000,000 new financing for Maryland Oil Co. the Pendin stock offering by Pittsburgh Coal, and the increasing aloofness of the public at the current price levels, made a fresh onslaught on the market in the first period. New losses of 2 to 4 points were sustained in numerous active stocks, but the lower price levels thus reached offered such attractive buying opportunities that stocks were quickly gobbled up and the decline promptly checked

The decline of 405,191 tons in the monthly report of forward steel orders by the United States Steel Corp. was in line with expectations, and this important news item was negligible as a stock market factor. The extremely strong cotton and grain markets helped to buoy up speculative sentiment in other markets, due to the fact that many Wall Street speculators have their commitments well distributed over the stock, bond, grain, cotton and other markets.

For the second time in its history, the stock exchange will close on Monday in honor of a living person, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, and the holiday will extend the week end for many of Wall Street's active traders. This was an important factor in slowing up the activity of the market today, and in discouraging the making of new commitments to hold over until next Tuesday.

MISS MARY FOCH DIES AT HOME OF SISTER

Services To Be Held Sunday for Resident of Prospect

Prospect, June 10—Miss Mary Foch, 55, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles Reithmaier, E. Water-st, last night at 6:30 o'clock. She had been in failing health for a number of years and had been confined for the past three weeks.

Funeral services are to be held from the Reithmaier home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and at the Prospect Lutheran Church of which she was a member at 2:30 with Rev. C. H. S. Hunziker in charge. Burial will be made in Prospect Cemetery.

Mary Foch was the daughter of William and Elisa Foch and was born in Pleasant Township, April 12, 1872. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Henry W. Johnson, Windsor-st, Marion, and Mrs. Reithmaier at whose home she died, and one brother, George Foch, Girard-av, Marion.

RECEIVE MEDALS

Members of D Company Receive Awards

Medals for sharpshooting and marksmanship and expert medals for pistol work were distributed to various members of D Company by commanding officers at the regular drill last night. The medals were received Sunday at a meeting in Columbus of regimental officers.

Members of Howitzer Company also will receive medals Monday night when they hold regular drill, it was announced today.

RINNERT FUNERAL IS HELD AT LATE HOME

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Elizabeth Rinnert, wife of Louis J. Rinnert, who died Wednesday at her home, 462 Windsor-st, were held there at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, with Rev. C. H. S. Hunziker in charge. Burial was in Marion Cemetery.

ISSUES PERMIT

A permit for a storage to cost $35 was issued by City Clerk Keller to C. S. Harris, 213 Park Boulevard, yesterday afternoon.

TELLS DANGERS OF GALL STONES HEPATIC TORPIDITY

Victims of Gall Bladder Trouble, Inactive Liver and Bowels Should Watch These Danger Signs

Dizziness, headache, shortness of breath, distress after eating, gas in stomach and bowels, pressure or sharp pains in right side that often shoot through to the back, coated tongue, bad breath, lack of ambition, weakness, nervousness and nights of restless misery caused by bad dreams or inability to sleep.

These are symptoms of poisonous waste matter in the system often called auto-intoxication) indicating improper bowel action, hepatic torpidity or gall bladder trouble—and when they come to folks in middle life they should be checked at once, before the dangers of more serious ailments like gall stones and high blood pressure are developed.

In the opinion of the writer, one of the best things in the world, for conditions of this kind is the inexpensive home use of "Klar-Ke" Tablets, which Bradley's Drug Store or any other good druggist supply on a binding guarantee to refund their cost, if easily noticeable beneficial results are not obtainable inside of a week! Don't wait until your entire system is polluted with poisonous waste or until gall bladder inflammation or gall stones makes a dangerous operation necessary, but start the use of "Klar-Ke" Tablets today. If "Klar-Ke" does not help you, its use will not cost you a penny.—Adv.

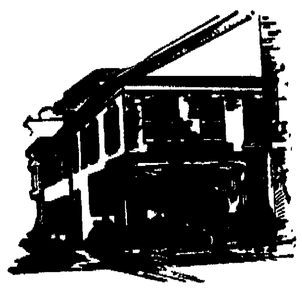
The Biggest In 45 Years!

ANNIVERSARY SALE



In Those Days

When the horse and carriage were used instead of automobiles, when mud roads were where paved streets are now, when Marion was a thriving little village of less than 5,000 souls—two young men came to this town and opened a small shop in the little building at the corner of Main and Center Sts., now occupied by Schulte's Cigar Store.

Since that time, forty-five years ago, this store has had a steady growth, until today Kleinmaier Bros. is one of the largest and most complete establishments for men and boys in central Ohio.

To celebrate this occasion, and to show our appreciation to the people of this community, whose friendship and good will have made the success of this store possible, we invite you to this anniversary sale, the greatest value-giving event in forty-five years.

At 9 O'clock Tomorrow Morning The Doors Are Thrown Open!

Unheard of specials in most every department, many in limited quantities, will attract hundreds of people, eager to get their share of these genuine bargains — all standard merchandise carrying our customary guarantee of satisfaction.
